THEATRE VOYONS.

Many motion pictures have tried to tell stories of the slums, but none has done so as successfully as does "A Strange Meeting" shown at the Theatre Voyons today.

The principal characters are a minister engaged in social work and a good hearted, but careless, girl of the slums. The plot is a simple one, but it is a beautiful picture of the southern cotton fields and tells the story of the "Egyptian Mystery" in a strange manner for a comedy. It is a picture of the slums and the life of the people who live there. The picture is a beautiful one and tells the story of the southern cotton fields and the life of the people who live there.

BREEZY POINT.

Technique shows through here is plenty of room for everyone to enjoy the whole show.

Breezy Point, Willow Dale, is certainly the closest thing that has been seen in Lowell in the line of a dance hall. When one imagines a dance hall with a beautiful summer resort and the music of the orchestra, it is a picture of the slums and the life of the people who live there. The picture is a beautiful one and tells the story of the southern cotton fields and the life of the people who live there.

We're grateful for this splendid start. It means much to new concern—to get well started.

By Order of the President of the D. S. O'Brien Co.
"downward revision" of prices all along the line has been stituted. Profits will be shared with our customers this outh, and incidentally, will clean up all our Spring and Sum- mer stocks.

To the STEIN-BLOCH fancy mixtures that were reduced to $15.00 in July, we have added the Stein-Bloch serges and undressed worsteds. that were unmatchable at $20. As the sizes on the blue serges were kept up late in the season, nearly every size is here.

The blocks and textures include sizes for big men up to 48 breast measure. Unnecessary to add, every suit is new.

The "Downward Revision" is general. Clothing, Hats and furnishings show reduced prices. The Smart Clothes Shop list sell its goods the season bought. There's no storage om for left overs. We need every inch for active lines.

REV. FR. BRADLEY

"ENGINEER PRIEST" HAS HIS OWN LIGHTING PLANT

Fr. P. H. Bradley, electrician, architect, engineer and priest, reads his paper by a 32-candlepower light and enjoys the breeze of a couple of electric fans, undisturbed by the humidity.

The St. Louis Republic tells about him in a recent article. Fr. Bradley doesn't do business with any lighting company except his own. One company told the priest that as it had no wires in the neighborhood at Kings-highway and Maffit avenue, and as he was the first citizen to move there who was ambitious to have electric lights, he would have to pay for three blocks of wiring.

They treated me about like a gentleman of the road asking for first week's cruise," Fr. Bradley said. "We are very sorry, but that is the best we can do for you," he was told. "I am equally sorry, but I'm not going to let that bother me," returned the priest, as he sought elsewhere for more light on the subject.

That it didn't bother him to speak of may be proved by making a visit to the engine room of the parish school of the church of the Blessed Sacrament, Kingshighway and Maffit avenue, where may be seen a gasoline engine of 12 horsepower, which drives a dynamo sufficient to illuminate his church and school, and his residence, too, when it is built.

The engine and the dynamo were installed and are run by Fr. Bradley himself. He wired and equipped his church and school with his own hands.

The little basement room looks like a small corner of a public power house in the completeness of its equipment. At one side is the switchboard, with individual switches controlling the stage and entertainment hall of the school, the upper rooms and the church. Below the switchboard are the meters. From the dynamo Fr. Bradley burns 125 15 candlepower lights. The entertainment hall of the school is equipped with tungsten lamps. The lights of the church are arranged so as to make the effect of the illumination unique and beautiful.

All the tiny lights of the altar, as well as every one in the entire building, were wired and placed by Fr. Bradley himself.

The engine and plant cost $600.

"I didn't do it because I particularly enjoyed the job of doing all the work," he naively observes, "but as a matter of economy, I couldn't afford to pay for wires for three blocks and then let the company own the wires. It wasn't fair."

"Then, I find from close observation and calculation that I light my church and school on just one-fifth what it would cost me of the Union Electric company. The consumption of my engine is 1½ gallons an hour, the gas-line costing 6½ cents a gallon."

In addition to his lights, Fr. Bradley has a supply of fans, some of which al he has installed and is enjoying.

Fr. Bradley is known as the engineer priest of St. Louis and was brought here recently as the archbishop's right hand man in superintending the construction of the cathedral, the various and tedious details of which demanded most technical information and practical learning.

MAN ELECTROCUTED

In the York Mills at Saco,
Maine, Today

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 5.—Charles Fournier received a charge of over 600 volts. He was electrocuted in the York Mills at Saco this morning. He was employed as a helper in the plant room and was assisting in an electrician when the accident happened. At the time he stood on a water pipe and held a chain fall in his hand. He was bending over, and in standing up straight, his head was held. He came in contact with a live black wire and a fine plug was knocked out, and Mr. Fournier, it is thought, received the fatal shock.

JOHN T. SHEA
CHOSEN NATIONAL SECRETARY
OF THE C. T. A. U.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Just as the 25th annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union was about to close last evening, Pres. John T. Shea of the Boston archdiocesan union, who a few minutes before had been elected national secretary of the organization, invited the convention to hold the next meeting in Boston. The invitation was received with cheers and was unanimously accepted. The convention will be held the second week in August.

Mr. Shea, in extending the invitation, said: "It comes to you with the good-will and approval of that great and distinguished prelate, Archbishop William H. O'Connell."

The election of national secretary developed into a contest between Jos. C. Gibbs of Philadelphia and Mr. Shea.

The Pennsylvania delegation voted solidly for Gibbs, while Boston, Providence, Dubuque and many other delegations supported Shea. The first ballot was declared "no vote," and Mr. Shea was elected on the second by a majority of 11.

Mr. Shea, in his speech of acceptance, said: "I thank you for the honor conferred upon me. I make no promises, but I hope when my term expires the members of this union can say, 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'"

Tewksbury

Is One of the Good Old Names

Good kind of people live in Tewksbury. Good farms in Tewksbury. They raise good things to eat in Tewksbury. They know how to cook good things in Tewksbury. They know how to live.

A large portion of the Why of all this is that they cook with Gas in Tewksbury whenever and wherever they have access to a gas main. We have placed a great many GAS RANGES in Tewksbury this season and last season—more than one would suppose—we install six in the Tewksbury State Hospital the present week. Yet there are a few families (only a few) in Lowell who are still cooking over a coal or wood fire. Strange is it not.

What is best on the market in GAS RANGE line may be seen at Appliance Store, John Street, any day, every day and all day. Drop in some day!

APPEAL to REASON

If ever there was a time when you had your doubts as to the values advertised by me, both the time and the doubts ought now to be things of the dead and forgotten past. For six months you have known me in Lowell. For 12 years in Boston, you have seen my business grow from its small beginning to be the biggest tailoring establishment in the country. Reason it a bit. I must have given the people all I promised, or I would not get their business year after year, nor the business of their friends. COUNTRY-FAIR-WORKERS and BLOK SHOW SPIELERS may gull the public once, but when you see a man doing a business of $200,000 annually, growing year after year, BET ON IT, that man is giving the public its money's worth. If this is common sense to you, look over my goods and prices and give me a trial order.

American Missionaries
Will be Defended

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo, Aug. 5.—A postponement until September 24 has been made in the trial here of two American missionaries, the Rev. William Morrison and Rev. W. H. Sheppard on charges of libel.

The charges are brought by one of the Congo concession companies, holding a monopoly of rubber gathering in the Kasai region. It claims $25,000 damages from each of the men for "calumnious denunciation."

The circumstances are such that the suit is considered practically as brought by the Belgian government. The United States government has been asked to take action in the trial of the two men that would insure their protection and M. Vandervelde, the Belgian socialist leader, has announced his intention of going to the Congo to defend them.

GERMAN FLEET

KIEL, Aug. 5.—The German fleet, under the command of Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia, returned here today from its cruise to the Spanish coast and is now engaged in taking on coal preparatory to putting to sea again to be reviewed off Kiel by Emperor Nicholas, who is expected here tomorrow on board the Imperial yacht Standard from Cowes. Sixteen battleships and fourteen cruisers will take part in the maneuvers.

Emperor Nicholas is again to pass through the Kiel canal, and the extraordinary precautions for his safety while so doing, adopted last week, will be repeated. Both sides of the canal will be picketed at short intervals by marines, all traffic on the waterway will be stopped and cavalry will follow the Standard through, marching along the banks at the same speed as the emperor's yacht.

REPUBLICAN CLUB

WILL MAKE MERRY AT WONDERLAND

The annual outing of the French American Republican club of Massachusetts will be held at Wonderland Park, Thursday, August 26. Among the speakers at the banquet will be His Excellency Gov. Eben S. Draper, Lieut. Gov. Louis A. Frothingham, Gov. Aram J. Pothier of Rhode Island and Col. Doty, president of the State republican committee. Dr. Clement Franchette of Leominster, president of the club, will preside. Between 700 and 800 prominent French Americans from all over the state are expected to be present.

LARGE BEAR

CARRIED AWAY BABY EIGHTEEN MONTHS OLD

DETROIT, Aug. 5.—A Journal special from Cheboygan, Mich., says: Reports reached the city yesterday that a large black bear had carried away a baby 18 months old while the mother was picking huckleberries on the Mackinac plains, about ten miles east of town. The mother had left the child sleeping in charge of another child eight years old.

Sheriff Chute dispatched a posse of ten men in charge of a deputy to the scene, but they were unable to find any trace of the child or the bear.

GERMANY NOTIFIED

OF THE CHANGE IN THE TARIFF LAW

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—The staff department at Washington has notified the German legation office of the termination of the German-American tariff agreement which expires six months and nine days, the nine days being added in order as provided, an interval for the signature of President Taft. The act is not filed in Germany, being regarded as hostile to German trade with the United States. There does not appear to be any intention of organizing a counter stroke.

PETITION DENIED

METROPOLITAN COMPANY CANNOT MAINTAIN HOSPITAL

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 5.—State Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss today denied the application of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. for permission to acquire real estate for the purpose of erecting a hospital for its employees and selected policyholders afflicted with tuberculosis. He points out that from the very beginning of corporate insurance in this state, the acquisition of such real estate as has been required by them in the transaction of their ordinary business, that is in the business of making and selling insurance.

3000 COUPLES

HAVE BEEN MARRIED BY TENNESSEE MINISTER

BRISTOL, Tenn., Aug. 5.—Rev. Alfred H. Burroughs, serving for the world's record of 2000th marriages, yesterday reached his 2050th couple, dating from an incidental marriage of the kind in Aug. 11, 1882. Closing young couples came to his altar at the rate of from 20 to 10 a month.

He is now looked upon as a wizard among young lovers throughout the south. Most couples received by him came from Virginia and West Virginia, having eloped because the laws of those states forbid marriage of minors except by consent of parents.

JACK JOHNSON

WAS ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF OVERSPEEDING

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 5.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, was arrested here this morning on the strength of a telegram from the chief of police at Woodstock, Ont.

Johnson is alleged to have gone through Woodstock at an excessive rate of speed in his automobile, and to have run down another automobilist, smashing his machine.

He took his arrest quietly and wanted to pay his fine whatever it might be, and settle all damages, but the authorities here had no power in the matter. Johnson was locked up pending his transfer to Woodstock.

A PUBLIC EXECUTION

The public execution by the guillotine in Paris yesterday attracted vast crowds. It was a shocking and indeed a horrifying spectacle, but if ever a public execution were justified, surely it was that of yesterday. The victim was a man, he killed his own mother first by the brutal use of a knife and then to finish her quickly he resorted to strangulation, and all from motives of robbery.

TYPHOID FEVER IN THE NAVY

It is very strange that there is so much sickness on the warships that have been around Boston harbor and Provincetown of late. Chelsea naval hospital is crowded with sick men from the fleet, including twenty-three typhoid cases. If this condition exists in time of peace what would be the state of affairs in war?

The warships have their surgeons, and are supplied with good food, and every facility for preserving the health of the marines and the crew.

It is alleged that the typhoid fever has resulted from the use of bad potatoes. Why use bad potatoes or bad food of any kind? Does not Uncle Sam provide money enough to feed the men of the navy as they should be fed? Is not the federal government enacted strict laws relative to pure food? Is the United States navy exempt from the operation of those laws or have the authorities been lax in their enforcement or penurious in the treatment of the men of the fleet?

There is something wrong and somebody is to blame for the illness and possible deaths of the men now confined at the Chelsea hospital. The whole matter should be carefully investigated in order that precautions may be taken against any such outbreak in the future.

THE TARIFF BILL PASSED

Now that the tariff bill has been enacted, it is expected that the uncertainty that has affected business for some time will disappear and a great industrial boom set in all over the country. The textile industries have fared very well in the shuffle; the publishers have secured a substantial reduction in the tariff on paper stock and will be relieved of exorbitant charges if the paper trust does not decide to pocket the entire advantage.

President Taft has secured free hides for the shoe industries of New England and now it remains to be seen whether the price of shoes will be reduced or whether the manufacturers will keep the increased profits to themselves. The people expect reductions in the price of footwear, they have been promised reductions by leading manufacturers if the tariff were removed from hides. Now that hides are free the manufacturers are expected to keep faith with the people. If they don't, there will be an uprising against the trusts greater than anything that has yet been experienced.

THE HOMESTEAD COMMISSION

We have often in this column advocated greater reliance upon the land and directed attention to the ease with which it will yield wealth by proper cultivation. Great stress was laid upon this principle during the panic year, but it is no less important in years of prosperity as a protection against panic or business depression.

Waste land is always to be had at a moderate price, always ready to yield abundant crops with proper cultivation, and yet thousands and thousands who were brought up in agricultural districts seek the congested factory districts and there take what comes, whether it be good or ill, without making any attempt to get back to the land or the farm.

We are glad to note that a great many men employed in workshop or factory during the day have taken to the cultivation of gardens during their leisure hours, thereby enjoying not only healthful but profitable exercise.

We are glad also to note that this idea of relying more upon the land as a source of wealth is taken up by the state, and that Governor Draper has appointed a Homestead commission, the duty of which will be to induce people to leave the congested districts of cities to settle upon the land or to take up the cultivation of land in conjunction with their other occupations.

Anybody who wishes to see an ideal garden, or the possibilities of garden cultivation, should visit the garden connected with the Public School on High Street where every foot of ground is made abundantly fruitful, and where even the other vegetables are bordered with beautiful shrubs and flowers in a manner that delights the eye of every passerby.

Along the banks of the Merrimack below Haverhill, a great many Italians have built houses on the hill sides and have turned barren into fertile land. By gradual process these people will in time establish comfortable homes and will branch out into the farming business. At present they work for a living, they grow crops or else where during the day, and between and after their working hours, they manage to fit their little farms, raising a supply of potatoes and other vegetables that will not only serve them during the winter months but for a good part of the winter. Here again we have an illustration of the possibilities of remuneration from the cultivation of the land. When such enterprise is fostered by the Home-stead commission, we have no doubt that much will be accomplished in the line of placing greater reliance upon the land and its proper cultivation as a source of wealth, and upon the cultivation of the land as a means of subsistence when business is dull in the factory, it will be very convenient for the operative to have a garden or farm in which he can spend his time to advantage.

Moreover the land thus obtained and made productive is a new and important source of wealth. A protection against want and an inducement to the body to turn to the soil for subsistence instead of depending entirely upon the factory that is subject to so many disturbances and depressions that are likely to affect business and cause temporary suspensions during which the employee, unless they have something to fall back upon, will be reduced to want.

SEEN AND HEARD

Strange, wasn't it that Jerome didn't ask Harry Thaw how many cigarettes he smokes per day or week?

"Time never runs smooth." You can put me down as believing in that," said Harry Thaw and still they are trying to make out that Harry doesn't know what he is talking about.

Pardon the repeat, but let us forget. Often to the bar seldom to the beach.

Don't want to hurry you, Bill, but now is a pretty good time to think about what you're going to wear next winter.

Going home late at night isn't half as bad as getting up early in the morning.

Most fat people are good natured, but outside of that they are all right.

I had heard much about the diving horses, "King" and "Queen," at Lakeview and decided to see them perform. I watched them from the pavilion and saw them so engaged in the jumping or diving point and then "King" and "Queen" were more interested in the horses than in their act. I found that there were only two days difference in their ages and both are in their sixteenth year. They are the direct descendants of the Arabian stallion presented to the king by the sultan of Morocco. Their dispositions are such as to carry them almost to the very threshold of the human family. They notice and resent the least little slight and appreciate every little kindness. If you would hear all about "King" and "Queen" just stop in as I did on Henry Jackson, the colored man who takes care of them. Henry weighs not less than 300 pounds and he is just as happy as he is large. He is with King and Queen night and day and when they want anything at night they call Henry and if Henry doesn't respond there's something wrong. Henry Jackson used to be Julius F. Pratt's coachman, as Henry puts it, "trustworthy coachman." Mr. Pratt was born in Worcester and had a summer home at Worcester beach. "I care for them as I would for children," said Henry, speaking of King and Queen, "and they are the nicest horses that ever lived. No human beings ever so attached as these horses. They have never been separated for a single day in their lives."

SCALP DISEASE PUZZLED DOCTORS

IMMEDIATE RELIEF AND EASY CURE BY CUTICURA

"My disease started with a little pimple on my head. Then it began to itch. The more I would scratch, the worse it grew until it spread all over my head. So I went to the doctor. I continued his treatment for some time but, finding no results, I decided to change and try some other remedy. Little warts began to grow on my head. I would wash it every day but it grew as raw as a piece of beef and my hair commenced to fall out in bunches. So I changed doctors. This doctor prescribed a wash and a salve. My head at this time was so sore I could not touch it. After trying several doctors and many patent medicines, nothing would cure it and I lost much time from work."

Then I decided to go to the hospital. Several doctors were called in to look at it, and after some consultation they said that I had scabiosis in its worst stage. They began to treat it but it improved very slowly. For over three years I was a sufferer from this disease. I thought all hopes of a permanent cure were impossible. A friend of mine, upon seeing the condition of my head, which was a mass of running corruption, asked me if I had tried the Cuticura Remedies. I told him nothing would do me any good; but being very anxious to be cured, I decided to try them. The first treatment with Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills brought immediate relief. My hair became alive and stopped falling out, all the scale left and now I am perfectly well and have a full head of hair. I can truthfully say that it was entirely cured and I recommend them to all sufferers from any skin disease. George M. Jefferson, 1518 Reed St., Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 21, 1909."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for every form of Itch, Eruptions and Acids caused by Cuticura Soap will clear the skin and Cuticura Ointment will soothe the skin and Cuticura Pills will purify the blood. ## PEOPLE OF NOTE.

The king and queen of Spain will visit England in the autumn. It is quite likely that they may be at Sandringham for the celebration of King Edward's birthday, which is also to be attended by the German emperor.

Dissatisfied with the appropriation voted by congress for playgrounds in Washington city, the women began a movement for a public demonstration. A day was set aside and hundreds bearing the words "I am for playgrounds, W. H. Taft" were sold at prices ranging from 10 cents to $10. Apparently everybody helped in the work and at night it was found that the proceeds of the day amounted to about $12,000.

On a special leave of absence from absence, Rev. Joseph K. Yashuk, for 19 years the head of the missionary work among Syrians in the United States, is to visit his old home again, and will sail on August 16 for the Holy Land. He has had his headquarters at the Syrian-Maronite mission in Tel-Aviv since 1904, where he will preach a farewell sermon, next Sunday. Father Yashuk's health has suffered during his labors here, which have taken him into 30 states. He expects to be gone about a year, going to Rome, where he received his training at the Maronite college, and to Palestine to visit his father at Mount Lebanon.

Right Rev. Charles Chapman Grafton, D. D., bishop of Fox Bu Loc, Wis., will be in the east for a part of the summer, and on the annual cruise of the New York Yacht club he will be the guest of Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry. Bishop Grafton has many friends in Newport, in Portland, in Boston, and other points covered in the cruise.

In order that her husband, who is minister of the South Brooklyn Unitarian Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., might have a month's vacation without causing expenses to the society in employing another minister, Mrs. H. S. Baker has been preaching sermons in his absence.

Molden Hedges, who is said to have been the last survivor of the Fremont expedition, was found drowned in a canal in Denver last week. He was over 91 years old and just after he passed his 50th birthday he became an amateur driver, explaining to his friends of whom he had many in Denver that he couldn't live without work. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and active in the affairs of the Sons of the American Revolution in Colorado.

What shocks the St. Louis Globe-Democrat most of all in Senator Snodgrass' Baltimore adventure is the shadow, not that he consumed cigarettes, "Oh, Missouri," it exclaims, "imperial and luxurious in the pride of a luxury man," but that he had a "faded" post as the comical play of a tickle, the painting eye of which was shown as a bon on light in your darkest hours? Of, for one while of the black columns of Red, dark as midnight, smooth with more than the stiffness of the best Red Samarra, and buried in the heart of winter were these divine words with all like sweet speech. But only to be touched with velvet lips to make incense for the highest gods?

Text of the Measure Passed by Congress

Statements of a fraudulent nature are subject to a fine of $1,000 and imprisonment for one year.

During the closing days of the tariff controversy, before the bill was voted on for final passage, over forty Republicans who had grievances of one sort or another against certain of the provisions of the bill stated that they would vote against it. They had it in their power to defeat the measure and force the president to call another special session in September or October. They had the party leaders plainly worried for a time, but the able peace-makers at the capital, including President Taft himself, succeeded in calming the ruffled waters at last.

HISTORY OF THE BILL.

The new tariff law will be known in history as the Payne bill, after its

When, in 1832, a bill establishing a protective tariff policy was passed, South Carolina refused to recognize the validity of the increased duties and threatened to secede. President Jackson had to dispatch a warship to South Carolinian waters.

A horizontal reduction of the tariff took place in 1853. Twelve years later, under Polk's administration, a bill drafted by Robert J. Walker, secretary of the treasury, was adopted, standing mildly for the protective policy. This bill lasted until 1857, when a reduction of 24 per cent occurred on the average duties. Actually a free trade system, this law tariff proved adequate for all government needs until the outbreak of the civil war, when an increased income was necessitated.

The funeral was on the Catholic church, where the funeral prayers were read by Fr. Moffat. The deceased was the daughter of Edward and Mary J. Mahoney, 1000 Franklin street. She was a beautiful girl, and was a devoted daughter and a devoted friend. She was the most devoted of Catholics, having the most perfect faith in the teaching of the church. Her illness seemed to have been the result of a cold, which she caught in the spring. Miss Mahoney died at 10 A. M. from pneumonia, and was buried in the Catholic cemetery. Her family is now suffering from grief.

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 6.—The murder of a white woman by a Chinaman, somewhat similar to the murder of Elsie Stiel in New York last June, occurred in this city today. Then Yon, a Chinese merchant of Berlin, assaulted by jealousy, shot Hildegard Hoffman, a music hall singer, and then turned his revolver on himself. Both died within a few minutes.

on to the highest bidder, a pleasantly situated cottage, house of six rooms and 3500 square feet of land, more or less. This property is so situated that it makes a good home for any person who would like to live in the country, and it is a charming country locality. It is within easy reach of the mills, workshops, churches, schools, and the car line. The house is in good repair inside and out, has city water and gas, and good sewerage. This is a splendid opportunity for someone to purchase a neat home in a good neighborhood at their own price, at public auction.

THE TAX RATE

Announcement Will Be Made In a Few Days

The tax rate for 1909 will be declared in a few days, perhaps Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. It looks now as if the rate would be a little less than the present rate, $20.10, but the assessors are not saying so. It is hoped that with all else considered the reduction in the state tax will show a reduction in the city tax.

Committee on Education

The committee on education, Aldermen Adams and Connors and Councilmen Davis, Dow and Tarrant will meet at 7:30 this evening. Ald. Connors promises to make the meeting interesting. He says he will have something to say about school buildings especially in ward five. "I will speak about the topography and other things," said Mr. Connors. "We are responsible in a great measure for the education of the children and it is our duty to see to it that their surroundings and school environments are as good as we can make them. I will express myself more fully this evening."

AWAITING PRESIDENT TAFT

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 6.—The bustle and stir resulting from the near approach of President Taft's arrival, continued today. More furniture from Washington for the executive offices arrived by rail today and workmen were active in transporting it to the Board of Trade building, where the offices will be located. It was expected that everything would be in order by tonight.

The president's train is expected here at about 9 a. m. tomorrow, but it is believed that the executive will not stop here, but will continue to Mont Serrat, the station nearest Woodbury's Point and the Taft summer residence.

Miss Helen Taft went to Mont Serrat Golf club today to play tennis with Miss Lucy Blair, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blair of Chicago, summer residents here. Robert was out on the Essex County club links for golf. Charlie was still at Gloucester, but was expected home by tonight.

LIEUT. UTLEY

Called as Witness in Sutton Case

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 6.—Lieut. Harold H. Utley of the marine corps was recalled at the opening of today's session at the investigation of the death of Lieut. James N. Sutton of Portland, Ore., before the naval board of inquiry. Henry E. Davis, counsel for Mrs. Sutton, Lieut. Utley's mother, continued his cross examination of the witness, interrupted by adjournment yesterday. Major Leonard, the judge advocate, arose to make a statement "in justice to himself" before Mr. Utley began to testify.

"I want to go on record, that under the law and regulations I had to instruct Lieut. Utley of his rights as a defendant, that he did not have to answer questions which might tend to incriminate him," said Major Leonard. "I tried to stop the mouth of this witness, and I want this statement to appear here in justice to myself."

Mr. Davis took the witness back to the scene of the tragedy near the machine gun, and questioned him closely about the incidents leading up to the shooting, emphasizing the discrepancies in Utley's testimony of yesterday by reading from the testimony of the other officers who were there. Reading from the testimony of Lieut. William Nelson and Sergeant Le Hart, Mr. Davis brought out many things which testified Lieut. Utley did not see the shot fired. Utley was shot of which the witness had no present recollection.

"Did Dr. Hart come to you after the shooting and tell you someone had handed him a revolver and he had thrown it away, as he testified?" asked Mr. Davis.

"I do not remember any such conversation," Lieut. Utley replied. "Didn't Dr. Hart ask you the next morning to tell him who had handed him the revolver and you said that you didn't?"

"No, I don't recall any conversation like that."

REV. D. J. KELEHER

Is Appointed Pastor of St. Peter's Church

Fr. Keleher Was Pastor of St. Mary's, Winchester, and Was a Professor at the Brighton Seminary for 10 Years—He Will Assume Charge Next Week

The new pastor of St. Peter's church is Rev. D. J. Keleher of St. Mary's church, Winchester, one of the best known priests in the archdiocese. The announcement of his appointment was made by Archbishop O'Connell at Boston last evening.

Rev. Fr. Keleher will bid farewell to his old parishioners of Winchester on Sunday and will come to Lowell next week.

Fr. Keleher was ordained to the priesthood in 1882 and his first assignment was as curate at the Church of St. Francis de Sales, Roxbury. From there he went to St. John's seminary, Brighton, where he held a professorship for 10 years. He was then appointed pastor of St. Joseph's church, Medway, Mass., and three years ago was made pastor of St. Mary's, Winchester. Fr. Keleher is a very scholarly man and a noted preacher.

Other Church Appointments

A Boston despatch has the following relative to the church appointments: By the transfer of several pastors in different parts of the archdiocese, Archbishop O'Connell has filled the important parish vacancies caused by deaths in Lowell and Brockton, and incidental to these other changes are as follows:

Rev. Fr. Bartholomew P. Killian, pastor of St. Bridget's church, Malden, transferred to the pastorate of St. Patrick's church, Brockton, to succeed the late Rev. Fr. J. P. Kelley.

Rev. Dr. D. J. Keleher, pastor of St. Mary's church, Winchester, transferred to the pastorate of St. Peter's church, Lowell, to succeed the late

IN POLICE COURT

Jackson Street Gang Held for Grand Jury

John Theodoras, Nellie Beaulieu, Fred Rossi, Mary Biledeau and Rose Pelletier, who were arrested Wednesday in connection with the raid of a disorderly house in Jackson street, were arraigned before Judge Pickman in police court this morning. The fact that the cases were scheduled for trial attracted a large number of people to the court room.

The greater part of the testimony was of a nature that warrants its exclusion.

The first matter taken up was that of John Theodoras and Nellie Beaulieu, who were jointly charged with keeping a house of ill fame and lewd and lascivious cohabitation.

Edith Bonnet and Annie Proctor testified to their experience in the house, giving damning testimony against the defendant.

Patrolman Sheridan testified as to what he saw at the house in Jackson street.

Inspector John Walsh produced a receipt which he had found in the Boston woman's bag. It was a receipt for a couple of weeks with Mrs. Beaulieu woman's husband. Witness said that Theodoras said he had lived with the Beaulieu woman for six months.

Probable cause was found, and the defendants were held in $750 bonds on

Second Complaint
The charge of lewd cohabitation was then taken up.

The janitor of the building at 12 Middlesex street, where they had been cohabiting, said that the Boston woman, on being asked the name of Mrs. Johnson, Theodoras came later and told his name was Johnson, and the Beaulieu woman was his wife.

CHAMP CLARK

Makes Statement on Payne Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—In reply to what he termed "the misrepresentation of the minority in the Payne tariff bill," in which he says in part: "Some papers, either through carelessness or malice, have gone so far as to say that had the democrats not been absent in large numbers unpaired, we would have defeated the conference report on the tariff bill."

There is not a syllable of truth in it, and to so charge is either unadulterated malice or criminal negligence.

"Upon my motion last spring to recommit the Payne bill with instructions, all the democrats voted for it except four. In the Payne bill itself, voted on immediately after my motion to recommit was defeated, the republican lost one vote and the democrats lost four, a net loss to the democrats of three—a more nearly unanimous denunciation vote than has been cast on a tariff bill in a generation."

"True that on some of the items a few democrats flew the truck, but so did more republicans. On Mr. Payne's motion to recommit the conference report all the democrats except one voted for it, and twenty republicans voted with us, so that the republican machine was victorious by only one majority, although they had a majority of forty-five in the house. On that vote there were absent six democrats and five republicans. Among the absentees four democrats were paired with four republicans leaving two democrats and one republican absent without pairs. If the two democrats about voted with us, we would still have been defeated by one vote. On that vote to recommit the conference report the democrats voted more solidly than they ever voted on a tariff question since the close of the Civil war, while the republicans were worse split up."

"On the vote on the adoption of the conference report the house machine won by twelve majority only. There were absent six democrats and four republicans. On the motion to recommit, four democrats were paired with four republicans and two democrats were absent without pairs and two democrats voted with the republicans."

"I do not think it plausible and I saw no reason why she should tell me this story if it was not true."

The detective said he had read many letters from women to Thaw's attorneys.

"Generally," he remarked, "they ended by wanting money and I would tell them up and throw them away."

"He didn't get enough to pay my expenses, however, in it for money. I knew Mr. Thaw as a boy and I came down here of my own accord to do what I could."

"But how much did you get?" persisted Jerome.

"I did not get over $2200 in all. I was here eleven weeks during the first trial and during part of the second."

"Were you ever called upon to settle the many matters in Pittsburg in which Harry Thaw was involved?"

"Never."

"Did this story of an actress, expected in the ways of New York in New York, and who had been broken into, seem true to your sophisticated mind?"

"Yes, I thought it was probable."

"With your thirty years' experience of detective and your knowledge of the many matters in Pittsburg in which Harry Thaw was involved, did you really believe in the story of an actress?"

"Yes, I did."

O'Mara was arrested and Mr. Morschauser called Mrs. Mary O'Connell to the stand. There was a buzz of excitement as she would undoubtedly testify to the stand. She was asked to explain Detective O'Mara's position.

Mrs. Thaw asserted that Mrs. O'Connell, her former teacher, had expressed regret and shed tears over the mother in which her evidence was exaggerated to show Thaw's immoral mind.

The witness used the word "fortune" referring to Detective O'Mara's alleged treatment of her son.

When she quoted O'Mara's alleged words, "This girl is just the sort of a girl I want to have my eyes and she had to have a woman her son."

She declared that Harry had nothing to do with the girl, and that she had been told by the detective that she was just the sort of a girl I want to have my eyes and she had to have a woman her son.

The witness' self-possession failed her entirely when she attempted again to describe what she saw during her stay in the room of the actress.

ROGER O'MARA

Was the Principal Witness at the Thaw Case Today

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The probability of one of the greatest strikes the country has experienced grew more threatening with the conclusion of the voting of the Chicago street car employees of the union early today. The result of the vote will not be known officially before tomorrow.

"Yes, I was employed by Thaw to investigate his charges against the practices of Stanford White. Mr. Morschauser called him today to substantiate stories told by witnesses."

He told his experiences in 1901 with a girl, now a prominent actress, whose story came from the lips of Thaw yesterday afternoon. Mr. O'Mara said he saw both this girl and her mother and what they told him agreed with Thaw's assertions.

"Did you believe this was true?" asked Jerome.

REV. FR. BRADLEY

"ENGINEER PRIEST" HAS HIS OWN LIGHTING PLANT

Fr. P. H. Bradley, electrician, architect, engineer and priest, reads his paper by a 22-candlepower light and enjoys the breeze of a couple of electric fans, undisturbed by the humidity. The St. Louis Republic tells about him in a recent article. Fr. Bradley doesn't do business with any lighting company except his own, one company told the priest that as it had no wires in the neighborhood at Lange, highway and Maffit avenue, and as he was the first citizen to move there, he was ambitious for electric light, he would have to pay for the blocks of wiring.

They treated me about like a gentleman of the road asking for "last week's crust," Fr. Bradley said. "We are very sorry, but that is just what we can do for you," he was told. "I am equally sorry, but I am going to let that bother me no more and the priest, as he sought elsewhere for more light on the subject."

That it didn't bother him to speak of may be proved by making a visit to the engine room of the parish school in the Church of the Holy Sacrament, Kinshashtway and Maffit, at St. Louis, where may be seen a gas engine of 12 horse-power, which drives a dynamo sufficient to illumine the church and school, and his residence at Lange, highway and Maffit.

The engine and the dynamo were installed and are run by Fr. Bradley himself. He wired and equipped the church and school with his own hands. The little basement room looks like a small corner of a public power house in the middle of the city.

At one end is the switchboard, with individual switches controlling the lights, the upper rooms and the church. Below the switchboard are the motors. From the dynamo Fr. Bradley burns 120 38 candlepower lights. The entertainment hall of the school is equipped with tungsten lamps. The lights of the church are arranged so as to make the effect of the illumination unique and beautiful. All the tiny lights of the altar, as well as every one in the entire building, are wired and placed by Fr. Bradley himself.

The engine and plant cost $2000. "I didn't do it because I particularly enjoyed the job of doing all the work," he naively observes, "but as a matter of economy, I couldn't afford to pay for three blocks and then let the company own the wires. It wasn't handy myself."

Then, I find from close observation

and calculation that I light my church and school on just one-fifth what it would cost me of the Union Electric company. The consumption of my engine is 1 1/2 gallons an hour, the gasolene costing 6 1/2 cents a gallon."

In addition to his lights, Fr. Bradley most technical information and practical

STEIN--BLOCH $20 SUITS

Including Blue Serges and Black Undressed Worsteds, "revised downward" to

$15.00

"Downward revision" follows inventory. Since March 12 to July 31—less than five months—the Smart Clothes Shop has done almost half the business we aimed, but hardly hoped to do, in our first year.

We're grateful for this splendid start. It means much to a new concern—to get well started.

By Order of the President of the D. S. O'Brien Co. a "downward revision" of prices all along the line has been instituted. Profits will be shared with our customers this month, and incidentally, will clean up all our Spring and Summer stocks.

To the STEIN-BLOCH fancy mixtures that were reduced to $15.00 in July, we have added the Stein-Bloch serges and undressed worsteds that were unmatchable at $20. As the sizes on the blue serges were kept up late in the season, nearly every size is here.

The blocks and textures include sizes for big men up to 48 breast measure. Unnecessary to add, every suit is new.

The "Downward Revision" is general. Clothing, Hats and Furnishings show reduced prices. The Smart Clothes Shop must sell its goods the season bought. There's no storage room for left overs. We need every inch for active lines.

MAN ELECTROCUTED

In the York Mills at Saco,
Maine, Today

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 6.—Charles Fournier received a charge of over 600 volts. He was electrocuted in the York Mills at Saco this morning. He was employed as a helper in the piping department and was assisting in an air chamber in the setting of the power house when the accident happened. At the time he stood on a water pipe and held a chain fast in his hand. He was bending over, and in standing up straight, his head, which was laid, came in contact with a fuse block, and a fuse plug was knocked out, and Mr. Fournier, it is thought, received the fatal shock.

JOHN T. SHEA
OF THE C. T. A. U.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Just as the 25th annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence union was about to close last evening, Pres. John T. Shea of the Boston archdiocese union, who a few minutes before had been elected national secretary of the organization, invited the convention to hold the next meeting in Boston. The invitation was received with cheers and was unanimously accepted. The convention will be held the second week in August.

Mr. Shea, in extending the invitation said: "It comes to you with the good will and approval of that great and distinguished prelate, Archbishop William H. O'Connell."

The election of national secretary developed into a contest between Jos. C. Gibbs of Philadelphia and Mr. Shea. The Pennsylvania delegation voted solidly for Gibbs, while Boston, Providence, Dubuque and many other delegations supported Shea. The first ballot was declared "no vote," and Mr. Shea was elected on the second by a majority of 11.

Mr. Shea, in his speech of acceptance, said: "I thank you for the honor conferred upon me. I make no promises, but I hope when my term expires the members of this union can say: 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'"

A large portion of the Why of all this is that they cook with Gas in Tewksbury whenever and wherever they have access to a gas main. We have placed a great many GAS RANGES in Tewksbury this season and last season—more than one would suppose—we install six in the Tewksbury State Hospital the present week. Yet there are a few families (only a few) in Lowell who are still cooking over a coal or wood fire. Strange is it not.

APPEAL to REASON

If ever there was a time when you had your doubts as to the values advertised by me, both the time and the doubts ought now to be things of the dead and forgotten past. For six months you have known me in Lowell. For 12 years in Boston, you have seen my business grow from its small beginning to be the biggest tailoring establishment in the country. Reason it a bit. I must have given the people all I promised, or I would not get their business year after year, nor the business of their friends. COUNTRY-FAIR-WORKERS and SLICK SHOW SPIELERS may gull the public once, but when you see a man doing a business of $200,000 annually, growing year after year, BET ON IT, that man is giving the public its money's worth. If this is common sense to you, look over my goods and prices and give me a trial order.

TRIAL PUT OVER

American Missionaries
Will be Defended

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo, Aug. 6.—A postponement until September 24 has been made in the trial here of two American missionaries, the Rev. William Morrison and Rev. W. H. Sheppard on charges of libel. The charges are brought by one of the Congo concession companies, holding a monopoly of rubber gathering in the Kasai region. It claims $20,000 damages from each of the men for "contumacious denunciation."

The circumstances are such that the suit is considered practically as brought by the Belgian government. The United States government has been asked to take action in the trial of the two men that would insure their protection and Mr. Vandervelde, the Belgian socialist leader, has announced his intention of going to the Congo to defend them.

GERMAN FLEET

KIEL, Aug. 6.—The German fleet, under the command of Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia, returned here today from its cruise to the Spanish coast and is now engaged in taking on coal preparatory to putting to sea again to be reviewed off Kiel by Emperor Nicholas, who is expected here tomorrow on board the Imperial yacht Standart from Cowes. Sixteen battleships and fourteen cruisers will take part in the maneuvers.

Emperor Nicholas is again to pass through the Kiel canal, and the extraordinary precautions for his safety while so doing, adopted last week, will be repeated. Both sides of the canal will be picketed at short intervals by marines, all traffic on the waterway will be stopped and cavalry will follow the Standart through, marching along the banks at the same speed as the emperor's yacht.

REPUBLICAN CLUB

WILL MAKE MERRY AT WONDERLAND

The annual outing of the French American Republican club of Massachusetts will be held at Wonderland park, Thursday, August 26. Among the speakers at the banquet will be His Excellency Gov. Elton S. Draper, Lieut. Gov. Louis A. Frothingham, Gov. Aram J. Pothier of Rhode Island and Col. Dots, president of the State republican committee. Dr. Clement Franchette of Leominster, president of the club, will preside. Between 700 and 800 prominent French Americans from all over the state are expected to be present.

LARGE BEAR

CARRIED AWAY BABY EIGHTEEN MONTHS OLD

DETROIT, Aug. 6.—A Journal special from Cheboygan, Mich., says: Reports reached the city yesterday that a large black bear had carried away a baby 18 months old while the mother was picking huckleberries on the Mackinac peninsula, about ten miles out of town. The mother had left the child sleeping in charge of another child eight years old. Sheriff Clark dispatched a posse of ten men in charge of a deputy to the scene, but they were unable to find any trace of the child or the bear.

GERMANY NOTIFIED

OF THE CHANGE IN THE TARIFF LAW

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—The state department at Washington has notified the German home office of the termination of the German-American tariff agreement within six months and nine days, the nine days being added in order to provide an interval for the signature of President Taft. The act is not liked in Germany, being regarded as harmful to German trade with the United States. There does not appear to be any intention of organizing a counter stroke.

PETITION DENIED

METROPOLITAN COMPANY CANNOT MAINTAIN HOSPITAL

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 6.—State Superintendent of Insurance Hochkies today denied the application of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. for permission to acquire real estate for the purpose of erecting a hospital for its employees and selected policyholders afflicted with tuberculosis. He points out that from the very beginning of corporate insurance in this state, acquisition only of such real estate as the companies were limited to the transaction of their ordinary business, that is in the business of making and selling insurance.

3000 COUPLES

HAVE BEEN MARRIED BY TENNESSEE MINISTER

BRISTOL, Tenn., Aug. 6.—Rev. Alfred H. Burroughs, serving for the world's record of 1000 marriages, here this morning reached his 1000th couple, a telegram from the chief of police dating from an incidental marriage of the kind in Aug. 14, 1880. Elopement young couples come to his mesa at the rate of from 20 to 10 a month. He is now looked upon as a wizard among young lovers throughout the south. Most couples married by him come from Virginia and West Virginia, having eloped because the laws of those states forbid marriage at altars except by consent of parents.

JACK JOHNSON

WAS ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF OVERSPEEDING

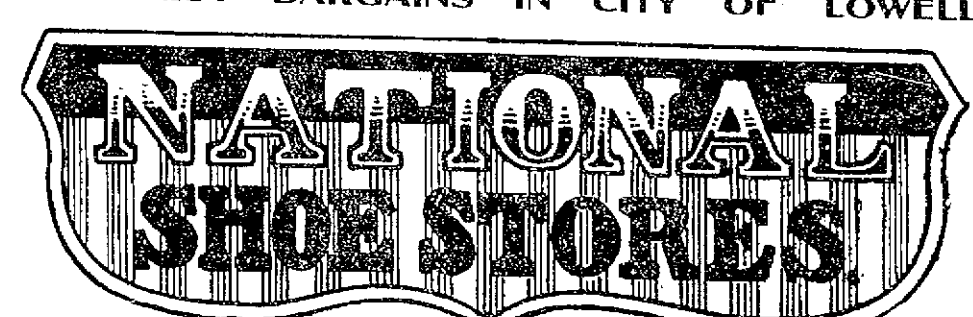

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 6.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, was arrested here this morning on the strength of a telegram from the chief of police at Woodstock, Ont. Johnson is alleged to have gone through Woodstock at an excessive rate of speed in his automobile and to have run down another automobilist, smashing his machine. He took his arrest calmly and wanted to pay his fine whatever it might be and settle all damages. But the authorities here had no power in the matter. Johnson was taken up pending his transfer to Woodstock.

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

A PUBLIC EXECUTION

The public execution by the guillotine in Paris yesterday attracted vast crowds. It was a shocking and indeed a horrifying spectacle, but if ever a public execution were justified, surely it was that of yesterday. The victim was a matricide. He killed his own mother first by the brutal use of a knife and then to finish her quickly he resorted to strangulation, and all from motives of robbery.

TYPHOID FEVER IN THE NAVY

It is very strange that there is so much sickness on the warships that have been around Boston harbor and Provincetown of late. Chelsea naval hospital is crowded with sick men from the fleet, including twenty-three typhoid cases. If this condition exists in time of peace what would be the state of affairs in war?

The warships have their surgeons, and are supplied with good food, and every facility for preserving the health of the marines and the crew.

It is alleged that the typhoid fever has resulted from the use of bad potatoes. Why use bad potatoes or bad food of any kind? Does not Uncle Sam provide money enough to feed the men of the navy as they should be fed? Has not the federal government enacted strict laws relative to pure food? Is the United States navy exempt from the operation of these laws or have the authorities been lax in their enforcement or penurious in the treatment of the men of the fleet?

There is something wrong and somebody is to blame for the illness and possible deaths of the men now confined at the Chelsea hospital. The whole matter should be carefully investigated in order that precautions may be taken against any such outbreak in the future.

THE TARIFF BILL PASSED

Now that the tariff bill has been enacted, it is expected that the uncertainty that has affected business for some time will disappear and a great industrial boom set in all over the country. The textile industries have fared very well in the shuffle; the publishers have secured a substantial reduction in the tariff on paper stock and will be relieved of exorbitant charges if the paper trust does not decide to pocket the entire advantage.

President Taft has secured free hides for the shoe industries of New England and now it remains to be seen whether the price of shoes will be reduced or whether the manufacturers will keep the increased profits to themselves. The people expect reductions in the price of footwear, they have been promised reductions by leading manufacturers if the tariff were removed from hides. Now that hides are free the manufacturers are expected to keep faith with the people. If they don't, there will be an uprising against the trusts greater than anything that has yet been experienced.

THE HOMESTEAD COMMISSION

We have often in this column advocated greater reliance upon the land and directed attention to the ease with which it will yield wealth by proper cultivation. Great stress was laid upon this principle during the panic year, but it is no less important in years of prosperity as a protection against panic or business depression.

Waste land is always to be had at a moderate price, always ready to yield abundant crops with proper cultivation, and yet thousands and thousands who were brought up in agricultural districts seek the congested factory districts and there take what comes, whether it be good or ill, without making any attempt to get back to the land or the farm.

We are glad to note that a great many men employed in workshop or factory during the day have taken to the cultivation of gardens during their leisure hours, thereby enjoying not only healthful but profitable exercise.

We are glad also to note that this idea of relying more upon the land as a source of wealth is taken up by the state, and that Governor Draper has appointed a Homestead commission, the duty of which will be to induce people to leave the congested districts of cities to settle upon the land or to take up the cultivation of land in conjunction with their other occupations.

Anybody who wishes to see an ideal garden, or the possibilities of garden cultivation, should visit the garden connected with the Polish church on High street where every foot of ground is made abundantly fruitful, and where corn and other vegetables are bordered with beautiful shrubs and flowers in a manner that delights the eye of every passerby.

Along the banks of the Merrimack below Haverhill, a great many Italians have built houses on the hill sides and have turned barren into fertile land. By gradual process these people will in time establish comfortable homes and will branch out into the farming business. At present they work in paper mills, shoe shops or elsewhere during the day, and before and after regular working hours, they manage to till their little farms, raising a supply of potatoes and other vegetables that will not only serve them during the summer months but for a good part of the winter. Here again we have an illustration of the possibilities of remuneration from the cultivation of the land. When such enterprise is fostered by the Homestead commission, we have no doubt that much will be accomplished in the line of placing greater reliance upon the land and its proper cultivation as a source of wealth, and upon the cultivation of the land as a means of subsistence when business is dull in the factory, it will be very convenient for the operative to have a garden or farm in which he can spend his time to advantage.

Moreover the land thus reclaimed and made productive is a new and permanent source of wealth. A protection against want and an inducement to the needy to turn to the soil for subsistence instead of depending entirely upon the factory that is subject to so many disturbances and depressions that are liable to affect business and cause temporary suspensions during which the employees, unless they have something to fall back upon, will be reduced to want.

SEEN AND HEARD

Strange, wasn't it that Jerome didn't ask Harry Thaw how many cigarettes he smoked, per day or week?

"True love never runs smooth." You can put me down as believing in that," said Harry Thaw and still they are trying to make out that Harry doesn't know what he is talking about.

Pardon the repeat, but lest we forget, "Often to the bar seldom to the bank."

Don't want to hurry you, Bill, but now is a pretty good time to think about what you're going to wear next winter.

Going home late at night isn't half as bad as getting up early in the morning.

Most fat people are good natured but outside of that they are all right.

I had heard much about the diving horse, "King" and "Queen" at Lakeview and decided to see them perform. I watched them from the pavilion and saw them go unharmed to the jumping or diving point and then "kerplunk!" It's a wonderful act to say the least but I was more interested in the horses than in their act. I found that they come only two days difference in their ages and both are in their sixteenth year. They are the direct descendants of the Arabian stallion presented to Gen. Grant by the sheikh (or main) of the land of the Arab.

Their dispositions are such as to carry them almost to the very threshold of the human family. They notice and resent the least little slight and appreciate every little kindness. If you would hear all about King and Queen just drop in as I did on Henry Jackson, the colored man who takes care of them. Henry weighs not less than 350 pounds and he is just as happy as a pig in a trough. He is with King and Queen night and day and when they want anything at night they call Henry and if Henry doesn't respond there's something doing. Henry Jackson used to be Julius F. Pratt's coachman, or as Henry puts it "trustworthy coachman."

Mr. Pratt was born in Worcester and had a summer home at Crosscut beach. I cared for them as I would for children," said Henry, speaking of King and Queen and they are the nicest horses that ever lived. No two human beings ever so attached to those horses. They have never been separated for a single day in their lives.

SCALP DISEASE PUZZLED DOCTORS

Began with a Little Pimple—Itched and Spread Till Whole Head was Raw—Hair Fell Out in Bunches—Suffered Three Years and Cure Seemed Impossible.

IMMEDIATE RELIEF AND EASY CURE BY CUTICURA

"My disease started with a little pimple on my head. Then it began to itch. The more I would scratch, the worse it grew until it spread all over my head. So I went to the doctor. I continued his treatment for some time but, finding no results, I decided to change and try some other remedy. Little warts began to grow on my head. I would wash it every day but it grew as raw as a piece of beef and my hair commenced to fall out in bunches. So I changed doctors. This doctor prescribed a wash and a salve. My head at this time was so sore I could not touch it. After trying several doctors and many patent medicines, nothing would cure it and I lost much time from work."

"Then I decided to go to the hospital. Several doctors were called in to look at it, and after some consultation they said that I had seborrhea in its worst stage. They began to treat it but it improved very slowly. For three years I was a sufferer from this disease. I thought all hopes of a permanent cure were impossible. A friend of mine, upon seeing the condition of my head—which was a mass of running corruption—asked me if I had tried the Cuticura Remedies. I told him nothing would do me any good; but being very anxious to be cured, I decided to try them. The first treatment with Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills brought immediate relief. My hair became alive and stopped falling out all over my head and now I am perfectly well and have a full head of hair. I can truthfully say that it was entirely due to the use of the Cuticura Remedies and I recommend them to all sufferers from any skin disease. George E. Jefferson, 1518 Reed St., Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 24, 1909."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Hazard of Infants, Children and Adults. Beloved, unto you.

I'd yield the hidden rapture

That in my shun-heart glows,

And in the summer of your kiss

Would blossom to a rose.

Oh, were I but a pansy,

Of soft, ethereal hue,

I'd whisper all my tender thoughts,

Beloved, unto you.

I'd press my velvet cheek, dear,

Against your very own,

And tell you all the vague sweet

That only love makes known.

Oh, were I but a lily,

That in your garden grew,

I'd give my rarest fragrance,

Beloved, unto you.

I'd lift my spotless petals,

And from my chalice white

Would wait your heart its wistful

Of passion's pure delight.

So tardy of sunrise?

Yet all my youth were yours, dear

PEOPLE OF NOTE.

The king and queen of Spain will visit England in the autumn. It is quite likely that they may be at Sandringham for the celebration of King Edward's birthday, which is also to be attended by the German emperor.

Disatisfied with the appropriation voted by congress for playgrounds in Washington city, the women began a movement for a public demonstration. A day was set aside and buttons bearing the words "I am for playgrounds. W. H. Taft," were sold at prices ranging from 10 cents to $10. Apparently everybody helped in the work and at night it was found that the proceeds of the day amounted to about $12,000.

On a special leave of indefinite absence, Rev. Joseph K. Vasek, for 10 years the head of the missionary work among Serians in the United States, is to visit his old home again, and will sail on August 10 for the Holy Land. He has had his headquarters at the Syrian Maronite mission in Tyler street, Boston, where he will preach a farewell sermon next Sunday. Father Vasek's health has suffered during his labors here, which have taken him into 30 states. He expects to be gone about a year, going to Rome where he received his training at the Maronite college, and to Palestine to visit his father at Mount Lebanon.

Molden Bledsoe, who is said to have been the last survivor of the Fremont expedition, was found drowned in a canal in Denver last week. He was an 81 year old, and just after he passed his 80th birthday he became an asharft driver, expert in the use of a saw, and he had many in Denver that he couldn't live without work. He was a member of James A. Garfield post of the Grand Army of the Republic and active in the affairs of the Sons of the American Revolution in Colorado.

What shocks the St. Louis Globe-Democrat most of all in Senator Stone's Baltimore adventure is the disclosure that he consumed cigarettes. "Oh, Missouri!" it exclaims, "imperial and sovereign in the pride of a lusty manhood, how art thou fallen now! Where is the cornucopia of a Cockrell, the flaming eye of which has shone as a beacon light in your darkest hours? Oh, for one whiff of the black Cubans of Best, dark as midnight, smooth with more than the alikeness of the best feed Sumatra, and for one whiff of the sweet spices of the divine tobacco of which were those divine cigars, like sweet spices, but only to be touched with votive fire to make incense for the highest gods."

Clyde Fitch is the American playwright most commonly associated with a large income. His earnings have frequently been contrasted with Shakespeare's, so greatly have his royalties in a single year exceeded Shakespeare's returns in a lifetime. Yet when Mr. Fitch sailed for Europe recently he declared that he was a poor man. His money, according to Indianapolis, he gave himself, has been mainly expended in buying and furnishing houses and in assisting relatives. He bought

Money Can't Buy a Pennant Winning Team

By TOMMY CLARK.

EVERY once in awhile one hears a disgruntled baseball fan ask, "Why is it that the Cleveland, Washington and St. Louis teams in the American League and Cincinnati and St. Louis in the National have never captured a pennant?" Just before the start, year after year, the above clubs are supposed to be stronger than the one before. New wonders have been obtained, and old timers have been let go, and many changes have been made, and the team is now strong enough to make a splendid fight for the banner, but as time goes on these very same clubs are as weak as they were in previous seasons.

Then the winter months set in, and the disgruntled ones discuss how the team can win the flag. One will say, "If the club officials would spend some of their surplus cash and try to obtain a Wagner, Brown, Cobb, Walsh or Mathewson the team would surely capture the banner."

Something Money Can't Buy.

Winning a baseball pennant, especially in the big show, is quite a different undertaking from what most of the fan flock figure the job to be. The banner is one of the few things that can't be bought—one of the few things that ambition, energy and hard work may not overcome in the end.

For two glorious or inglorious examples take the Cincinnati Nationals and the Cleveland Americans, Ohio's two big show representatives. At the head of the Cleveland club are Charley Somers and John Kilfoyle, two sportsmen with a potful of money who are willing to pay out and who have paid out year after year as much as or more than any other club owners in the Ewing, Bid McPhee, Mike Doolin, Joe Kelley, Sam Crawford, Overall, Seymour, Corcoran and others above the standard. Garry Herrmann, the club's chief owner, pays out annually a princely stipend for talent and would double this amount to win, but Cincinnati, like Cleveland, has her first flag to win.

On the other hand, Charley Murphy, with no experience as an owner, a new man to the game—buys a franchise at a low figure, expends a little or no money in strengthening his club, working through trades, and then wins three pennants in a row, sets the big league winning record and wins two straight world's championships. That's baseball.

Real Stars Cannot Be Bought.

The helplessness of money is one of the peculiar phases of the national game—the absolute inability of unlimited wealth to buy a championship team. Money will fill a stable with horses holding world's records, money will buy yachts and automobiles that can set new marks for speed, but no amount of money will buy enough ball players of pennant winning caliber to transform a second division team into a first place certainty.

The late Frank de Haas Robinson talked about this subject some years ago. "Brother Stan and I want a championship team in St. Louis," he said. "We have spent over $200,000 trying to get one, and still our nine is near the foot of the ladder."

"Now, the fans in St. Louis would rise grandly to a pennant winning team. We would give $500,000 for players that would insure us as good a team as the Pirates or the Cubs, a team that would attract 5,000 or 10,000 people a day instead of 2,000 or 2,500, a is the more valuable baseball player, Hans Wagner of Pittsburgh or Christy Mathewson of New York? It is difficult to answer, for both men are practically indispensable to their respective teams. It is almost a cinch that neither club would trade its great player for the other. On the face of it, Wagner would have the call, for a great player who is in the game every day would seem to be of more use to his club than a pitcher, no matter how strong, who necessarily is not in the lineup for a good many games. Wagner has held the Pirates up in the race for many years. So sensational is his work, especially with the bat, day by day that it is a common saying around the circuit that "Hans Wagner, assisted to a slight extent by a few other line-upers, defeated our boys at the yard this afternoon." This is an exaggeration in most cases, but it shows what a big factor the Flying Dutchman is in the winning of games by the Pittsburgh club. Still, the writer believes Mathewson is the more valuable of the two. Without Wagner the Pittsburghers would continue to win a majority of their games, for they have a great ball club in all departments. By taking Mathewson away from the Giants and McGraw's men would be down in the second division in a short time, with little prospect of getting out. Last year Matty won thirty-seven games for the Giants out of forty-eight pitched. He took part in more than one-third of the games played by his team and he won considerably more than one-third of the victories credited to the New York club. It is absolutely certain that no other pitcher could have done nearly so well. That is, with any other pitcher than Matty the Giants would not have been in the race right up to the last minute, as they were, but would have been out of it long before the actual finish.

On the last western trip of the Giants Matty won the only game that McGraw got in Chicago and also the only one secured in Pittsburgh, as well as one of the two that the Giants won in Cincinnati.

Without him the Giants would have had a bad trip instead of a fairly good one. In the recent series with Pittsburgh Matty has again proved his worth. The other twirlers were unable to mow down the Pirates. "Big Six," as he is called, won his game with his excellent pitching. The big pitcher must be regarded not only as the greatest twirler of the age, but also as the most valuable individual to a ball club that there is in the country today.

New Tennis Racket Being Tried.

A new firm of tennis racket makers has put a new racket on the market which it is asserted will completely revolutionize the game. Several continental players have already tried it, and they speak well of it. The main feature of the new racket is that it has two planes of stringing instead of one, and these planes are so arranged that only one comes into play for soft strokes, whereas for hard strokes the two unite in giving the ball a vigorous push. The advantage which will appeal to the majority of players is that the resiliency is spread over nearly the whole face of the racket instead of being quartered only, as it is on the ordinary racket. In the center of the face or very near it.

Other advantages arise from the fact that the mesh of the stringing is larger in the back and smaller in the front, so that the ball is imparted a better service. The grip is not impractical in any position, as the mesh being wider in the back and having a smaller tension, the string can move a little up and down so that one string does not get jammed into the one behind it, thus putting it through. Then the gut lasts longer as each string has less strain to bear than in a one-plane racket.

New Game—Quick Cricket.

Many people have claimed that cricket was too slow for Americans, but in the new English game of quick

The game has made a hit in England, where some players are becoming experts. Among those who have tried out the game are Messrs. R. F. and H. L. Doherty, Eustace Miles, Gilbert Jessop, A. W. Gore, Miss Douglas, Miss Lowther and Messrs. Risley, S. H. Smith, Rawson, Puckett and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hillyard. Teams have been organized in England, and counties play against each other.

The principal rule of the game requires that one run at least must be run for every hit, thus making slow play practically impossible. Ordinary tennis balls are used, the aim being to drive the ball that the wicket will be hit if possible. One player stands in front of the wicket as batsman and another behind the wicket as catcher, each with a tennis racket. The player numbered for his work in connection with J. C. Parker, the Irish player for the cup last season, which he has been playing in the hands of a young man, never succeeded in winning the cup, which is a championship of the world without the loss of a set, though he was opposed by each player at A. W. Gore, C. P. Dixon and Kenneth Powell. Ritchie is again better on the turf than on grass and has beaten H. L. Doherty on boards, in much better style than he has on grass. There was no around player in England today and he has not a weak spot in his armor.

business. An expenditure of from $20,000 to $30,000 annually for new talent is a steady occurrence, and yet, with an all star army gathered together or season after season, Cleveland has never won a pennant in twenty-eight years of effort.

On the payroll of Cleveland clubs have been such stars as Cy Young, Bobby Wallace, Pat Toheau, Larry Lajoie, Bill Bradley, Elmer Flick, Perry Turner, George Cuyper, Adie Joss, Bill Bernhardt and others who have reached the top crest of the game. Yet, after battling for twenty-eight years, Cleveland has her first pennant in the American National League, but the thing can't be done.

EMMET CORRIGAN TELLS HOW HE MEMORIZED HIS LONG ROLE IN "KEEGAN'S PAL."

The Chicago critics found the part of Peter Raeburn, the great criminal lawyer and pal of Paul Villach's successful society play, "Keegan's Pal," to be one of the longest on record. Emmet Corrigan, who created Raeburn, has this to say of committing lines.

"Memorizing is really the last and the least of the process of fixing a part in my mind. My first move is to get the story of the play straight, then the movement and motive of each scene, then the psychology of the character—how he thinks, feels and acts in relation to the situations in which he finds himself. When this is digested I write up the lines. Of course by this time I have committed the part to my memory so, searching and their meaning has become so impressed upon my consciousness that the memory takes them easily."

"The advantage I find in this method is not merely the ease of memorizing, but it guards against confusion in a scene should the exact context desert me. If I cannot think of the exact words I am so familiar with the character and the situation that I know about what he would say, and thus do I often successfully skate over the thin line of a momentary memory. Some actors have what I think may be called a photographic memory. They photograph the part word for word on a screen of their memory. They remember what the part looked like, on the typewritten page, word for word, comma, colon and period. If one pointed word or phrase goes back on them they are lost, for they have not been depending on the sense of the scenes, the characters and the spaces."

"Would I advise my method to others? Every one his own way. If one can successfully school himself to it, there are obvious advantages. It is death to the prompter's profession."

TIGHT LACING
BLAMED FOR THE DEATH OF A WOMAN

CINCINNATI, Aug. 6.—"I would not say that Elsie Gasser's death was wholly caused by tight lacing, but I do say that the pernicious effects of this evil custom was in all probability the partial cause of the girl's failure to rally from an operation for appendicitis, from which trouble she died," said Dr. G. Strohhach.

Elsie Gasser, 18, the daughter of Attorney and Mrs. John J. Gasser, up to a few days ago had never been ill a day. Dr. Strohhach, the family physician, often warned her of the evils of tight lacing. At a recent Elsie attempted to remove the lacing and the attack of appendicitis began the same night.

When asked if one of the doctors contemplated writing a pamphlet against tight lacing, Dr. Strohhach said:

"What good would a pamphlet do? Girls just will be so interested in style that they will lace. No pamphlet will stop them."

NEW AIRSHIP FOR RHEIMS RACES;
ONLY AMERICAN TO COMPETE

RHEIMS, France, Aug. 6.—Glenn H. Curtiss will be the only American aviator to compete in the world's aviation tournament to be held at Rheims, France, Aug. 22 to 25, although nearly all of Europe's competitors of the air will be there. The Wright brothers declined to compete in the races because of the rules governing them. They do not care to enter competitions anyway. Captain Durand's machine, which differs from nearly all the others, is the object of much speculation. This aeroplane is believed to combine all the best points of the Wright, Latham and Bleriot machines and is Count de Lambert will use a Wright expected to attain a higher velocity machine in the contests.

HEIR TO FORTUNE

Remarkable Story of Romance,
Love and Tragedy

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—In a handsome residence, 1612 Herkimer street, Brooklyn, there is a sobbing, hysterical little woman who until two days ago was known as the "Shop Girl Belle of Brooklyn," and even now is ignorant of the fact that by the drowning of her young bridegroom she is heir to a sixth of an estate of $1,000,000 left him by an uncle. Through the recovery yesterday afternoon of the body of Robert M. Powers, 26 years old, near Hammel's station, Rockaway, a strange mixture of romance, love, tragedy and coincidence has come to light.

On July 19 Dr. Andrew J. Powers, a wealthy and childless physician who lived at 5090 Ocean avenue, was drowned while swimming, and it was found that his fortune of $1,000,000 was divided into six parts and left to his niece and nephews of the Powers family, Robert M., Nora, Anna, Francis and John, and to his secretary, John M. Marsh, who had been with him 25 years.

Robert had been attentive for some time to little Miss Kate Howe, an unusually pretty girl, but his family objected to the marriage because she was a shopgirl. Not until the day of Dr. Powers' funeral did Robert learn that he was one of his uncle's heirs and he speedily assumed the very difficult following of the fortune. They were married, and he did not tell his family of the fortune he had won. They decided to keep their marriage quiet for a little while, and the bride returned to her own home.

Sunday afternoon Robert, his sister Anna and another young lady went to Hammel's and dined at the club there, of which the young man was a member. After dinner they went out for a row and were overtaken by a launch belonging to friends. They were invited aboard, and the girls accepted, but Robert remained in his rowboat, saying he was going for a swim later. That was the last time he was seen alive.

The little belle, hands with grief and despair, went to the Powers home and weeping confessed that she and Robert had been married, and the solemn little lady who was received into the family and remained in the house. She has been distressed with grief ever since, and her condition is serious.

Dr. Powers will come up for post-mortem examination, but when the surgeon learned of the marriage, the drowning and the recovery of the body, he postponed it until Aug. 16.

A coronial inquest with the attendance of the coroner on Friday, two days before the Sunday of the wedding of Robert Powers and his bride, followed by a funeral and burial in Rockaway Sunday and night of the same day.

"I can't go with you," said the bride, "I've got a doctor to see me in my own home, but I'll see you there."

But the friends never met again in life, for Kate was drowned an hour or two after Robert and his body has not been recovered.

LINCOLN CENTS

Lowell Trust Co. Swaps
3000 Pennies

One would almost believe were it not the Lowell Trust company, that a run on the bank or some other dire happening was in progress this morning when throughout the morning hours the bank was crowded with people eagerly awaiting their chance to have a word with the clerks behind the rail.

They were not there, however, to draw, nor yet to deposit, but they were there to swap and swap pennies at that, for yesterday after the bank closed it became known that the Trust Co. had received a package of 3000 of the new Lincoln cents and all who had been tipped off were there bright and early to get them. Not only did they go in person for the new pennies but the telephone bell was kept ringing all morning with requests from depositors to save them from one to a dozen of the treasured coins.

At noon today the greater part of the 2000 had vanished and it is expected they will be all gone by the time this story of their presence in Lowell shall have been written and circulated.

At the Union national bank only 10 of the pennies were received and they went in almost less than it takes to tell it. In both banks the officials accommodated all who called without discrimination as long as the coins held out.

The decision of Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh to have the miniature of Lincoln placed on the new Lincoln pennies stopped currency was performed by the present in order that new dies could be prepared as soon as possible, eliminating the initials of the designer, has caused animosity and souvenir hunters to make a diligent search for coins of the recent mintage.

The cent is one of the prettiest that has been turned out. The obverse side of the coin shows a bust of Lincoln as he appeared during the Civil war period with "In God We Trust" at the top.

On the same side as the Lincoln bust appears the year of coinage, while on the other side appears "Liberty."

"E Pluribus Unum," in small letters, is stamped in raised letter on the reverse side with "One Cent" and "United States of America" in the center.

In place of the wreath of leaves and arrows which appeared on the old Indian head cent, are two stems of wheat. Just below the stems of wheat in this obverse letters is inscribed "V. E. B." the initials of Victor D. Brenner of New York, the designer of the coin.

Mr. Brenner executed a medal in commemoration of the centenary of Lincoln's birth. This was admired by President Roosevelt and led to his approval of a design for a Lincoln cent. The treasury authorities object to the designer's initials and have referred to it as a medal rather than a coin. Comparatively few of the original pennies have been issued and as no more of that design are to be made the coins will increase in value as they grow old.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Oliver J. Pryor and Miss Amanda Landry to be performed at St. Louis church yesterday morning in the presence of a large gathering of friends. Nuptial mass was sung by Rev. J. H. Beland of Central Falls, R. I. in a church of the bride, while the evening of the new Lincoln pennies stopped currency was performed by the Rev. Fr. for the present in order that new dies bride, who wore a lovely gown of white beaded anglaise, was attended by her brother, Mr. Alfred Landry of Salem. The bridegroom was attended by his brother-in-law, Mr. Elmer Pedersen.

During the mass friends of the bride and members of the Central Falls Sainte-Croix, of which the bridegroom is president, gave a delightful musical program. Miss Anna Bourassa sang "O Salutaris," by Reuther, and Miss Yvonne Montmarquet sang "Salve Regina," by Hanshaw-Dana. Miss Angeline Montmarquet sang "Veni a te, Virgo Maria." At the close of the mass, Lambillotte's "Laudate" was sung by Dr. T. D. Chagnon, Emory C. Gaudin and Elmer J. Larochelle. Mr. J. N. A. Landry of Salem, and Miss Marie Louise Groulx of Schenectady, N. Y., played the organ.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast followed by a reception to the wedding party and very intimate friends took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pedersen, 27 Canaan street. Among the guests present from out of town were Rev. Fr. J. H. Beland, Rev. Fr. A. P. Desrosiers, Miss Marie Louise Groulx of Schenectady, N. Y., and Mrs. J. B. Landry and Mr. Alfred Landry of Salem; Miss Denise Drouin of Lawrence, and Miss Marie Louise Groulx of Schenectady, N. Y.

A wealth of beautiful gifts were received by the happy couple, who left in the evening on a trip of several weeks to Canada. On their return they will reside at 447 Moody street.

THE AUTO CLUB

Awarded Contract for Oiling Back Road of the Course

The board of governors of the Lowell Automobile club met this afternoon and awarded the contract for the oiling of the back road from the hairpin curve to the city line to the Kalamine Chloride Process company of Boston. The stretch is two miles and a half long and the company will take care of the road for two weeks.

The board voted to award the contract for 17,000 gallons of oil for the boulevard to the Gulf Refining Co. of Boston.

On recommendation of the committee on buildings the contract for the Dunbar avenue bridge was awarded to J. A. & E. A. Simpson, E. W. Douglas will build the suspension bridge from the parking space to the grandstand. The contract for lotteries in the grandstand went to Farrell & Conant and the board was struggling with the fireworks proposition for Monday night at the time of going to press.

THE TAX RATE

The tax rate for 1909 will be declared in a few days, perhaps Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. It looks now as if the rate would be a little less than the present rate, $20.40, but the assessors are not saying so. It is hoped that with all else considered the reduction in the state tax will show a reduction in the city tax.

Committee on Education

The committee on education, Aldermen Adams and Connors and Councilmen Davis, Dow and Tarrant will meet at 7.30 this evening. Aid. Connors promises to make the meeting interesting. He says he will have something to say about school buildings especially in ward five. "I will speak about the topography and other things," said Mr. Connors. "We are responsible in a great measure for the education of the children and it is our duty to see to it that their surroundings and school environments are as good as we can make them. I will express myself more fully this evening."

No Open Door

Before he took office the mayor said that there would be no door to his office leading from the city messenger's office, that it would be taken from its hinges, so that all might enter. Instead of the door being taken from its hinges, it is locked a greater part of the time.

LOWELL IN LEAD

Gray's Boys Have the Advantage Over Lawrence

Lawrence was the attraction at Spaulding park this afternoon before about 500 spectators. "Hi Henry" Labele, the former Nashua favorite, was on the slab for the Lowell team and he started off like a race horse. The remainder of the team was the same as yesterday, for as Billy Merritt says: "What's the use of changing when you're winning?" Knitzer was on the slab for Lawrence.

Umpire Buckley, a comparative stranger in this city, was the decision maker, and the game was called at 3 o'clock, the batting order being as follows:

Lowell
Venable 3b
Fitzpatrick 2b
Flinhart 1b

First Inning
Lowell started off well in the first inning by scoring a run while the visitors failed to send a man across the plate. Adler, the first man up for the visitors, reached first on Wilkie's fumble. Catterson hit to Fitzpatrick forcing Adler at second. Labele after making several unsuccessful attempts to get Catterson off first finally got him off the base and the runner was Venable opened the latter half of the inning with a single. Knitzer tried to get Venable off first and after making two or three throws made a wild one and the ball went into the bleachers, the result being that Venable went around to third. Fitzpatrick hit to Adler and was out at first. Flinhart singled over second base scoring Venable. Huston hit to Adler who tagged second and then sent the ball to first for a double play.

Score—Lowell 1, Lawrence 0.

Second Inning

Lowell scored another run in the second inning while a goose egg was registered for Lawrence. Massey and Reynolds sent grounders to Wilkie and were retired at first. Foster hit to Venable and was third out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Howard drew a base on balls and stole second. Wilkie then came to bat and slammed the ball to right center field for a three-bagger scoring Howard. Vinson fanned the breeze. Boyle fled to Jolly and the latter fumbled. Wilkie tried to make home on the error and was nailed at the plate. Labele singled to left field and Venable fled to Reynolds.

Score—Lowell 2, Lawrence 0.

Third Inning

In the third inning Jolly hit to Labele and was out at first. Fittz hit to Knitzer. Knitzer drew a base on balls. Adler hit to Wilkie forcing Knitzer at second.

REV. D. J. KELEHER

Is Appointed Pastor of St. Peter's Church

REV. D. J. KELEHER

Fr. Keleher Was Pastor of St. Mary's, Winchester, and Was a Professor at the Brighton Seminary for 10 Years—He Will Assume Charge Next Week

The new pastor of St. Peter's church is Rev. D. J. Keleher of St. Mary's church, Winchester, one of the best known priests in the archdiocese. The announcement of his appointment was made by Archbishop O'Connell at Boston last evening.

Rev. Fr. Keleher will bid farewell to his old parishioners of Winchester on Sunday and will come to Lowell next week.

Fr. Keleher was ordained to the priesthood in 1883 and his first assignment was as curate at the Church of St. Francis de Sales, Roxbury. From there he went to St. John's seminary, Brighton, where he held a professorship for 10 years. He was then appointed pastor of St. Joseph's church, Medway, Mass., and three years ago was made pastor of St. Mary's, Winchester, where he is a very scholarly man and a noted preacher.

Other Church Appointments

A Boston despatch has the following relative to the church appointments:

By the transfer of several pastors in different parts of the archdiocese, Archbishop O'Connell has filled the important parish vacancies caused by deaths in Lowell and Brockton, and incidentally to these other changes are reported.

The transfers so far as reported are as follows:
Rev. Fr. Bartholomew F. Killea, pastor of St. Bridget's church, Maynard, transferred to the pastorate of St. Patrick's church, Brockton, to succeed the late Rev. Fr. J. F. Kelley.

Rev. Fr. J. J. Keleher, pastor of St. Mary's church, Winchester, transferred to the pastorate of St. Peter's church, Lowell, to succeed the late

Rev. Michael Ronan.

Rev. Fr. J. J. Lyons, for many years an assistant at the church of the Sacred Heart, Malden, promoted to a pastorate and assigned to St. Raphael's parish, West Medford.

Rev. Fr. Nathaniel J. Merritt, pastor of St. Raphael's church, West Medford, transferred to the pastorate of St. Mary's church, Winchester.

There are one or two other changes to come in the near future, too, according to reports in circulation, and when these are made all the vacancies existing will have been filled. In ecclesiastical circles it is thought these other changes will occur within a fortnight.

The known transfers and appointments referred to above affect four well-known priests. Rev. Fr. Keleher, who goes to the Lowell parish because of his long and distinguished career in the archdiocese. He has been at Winchester about three years and previous to that was stationed at Medway. In both of these parishes he has been eminently successful and has won the deepest respect and affection and highest esteem of both Catholics and non-Catholic people of the town he has been stationed at.

Rev. Fr. Keleher is an able administrator, and he was probably selected for the Lowell parish because of this. The late Rev. Fr. Ronan had planned a magnificent parish property when death came and stopped this work. It will develop upon the new pastor to resume this work.

Fr. Keleher is a priest of scholarly attainments and is a preacher of note. On several occasions he has been invited as the pulpit orator on notable occasions.

A DRUNKEN MAN

Caused Some Trouble in Market Street

Some drunken men seem to have great luck in escaping arrest even when within the very shadow of the police station. This afternoon, between three and four o'clock, a drunken tinner with his kit on his shoulder, blew into Market street from Central street. He spoke to every person he met and to some spoke insultingly. Directly opposite the police station, overcome by the weight of his kit, he sat himself down to rest. In that position the sun seemed to bother him greatly and by great effort he scrambled to his feet and managing to get his kit back on to his shoulder, staggered away.

STOP SALE OF MILL PROPERTY

WORCESTER, Aug. 6.—Newton Durlington of this city has brought a bill in equity in the superior court against Charles N. The sale of the properties had been scheduled for Tuesday. A hearing on the matter will be held next Monday in the superior court at Boston.

MILLS TO RUN

BRISTOL, R. I., Aug. 6.—The Nantuxit Woolen mill at this town will operate night and day, beginning next Monday. Two sets of operatives will be employed. The plant has been running overtime for several weeks, but the demand for its product has increased to such an extent that doubtless it has been found imperative.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Announces Arrangements for His Trip to the West

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—

Before his departure today for the west, the president made public a tentative outline of his trip through the west and south this fall. It will be a wide swing around practically the entire United States, embracing a journey approximately 15,000 miles—as long as the cruise of the battleship fleet from Hampton Roads, through the Straits of Magellan to San Francisco, but the trip will be one of the most notable ever made by a president. It will be as diverse as could well be imagined, and no "seeing-all-America" tour could be devised to embrace as many points of interest in so brief a space of time as President Taft will give to his jaunt to the Pacific coast and back through the great states of the south.

The president, accompanied by Secretary Fred W. Carpenter, Captain Archibald W. Burd, his military aid, several guests or two for various parts of the trip, will travel in a private car, attached for the greater part of the time to regular trains, but running "special" every now and then to fill in engagements at the smaller towns along the route and in the more remote sections where trains are few and far between.

During his tour the president will traverse the Royal Gorge of the Rocky mountains, will visit the Alaska-Yukon exposition at Seattle, will spend three days in the famed Yosemite valley, will stop off at the Grand Canyon of the Colorado and follow the trail deep into the depths of that giant abyss, will greet the president of Mexico on the International bridge over the Rio Grande at El Paso on Oct. 16, will take a day's sail down the Mississippi river, from St. Louis to New Orleans, with various stops en route, and will spend four days on the ranch of his brother, Charles P. Taft, near Corpus Christi, Texas.

Starting from the rugged shores of the north coast of Massachusetts, the president goes direct west from Beverly. He will reach into the morning of Sept. 15—his 52d birthday—and there board the car which practically will be a moving White House for two months. The president has accepted practically all the invitations that could be crowded into the 50 days set aside for the trip and his acceptance book is closed. There naturally will be many five and ten minute stops not included in the regular itinerary, and many brief little car-end speeches, but the tour as now announced is to all intents and purposes complete.

The president's first stop will be Chicago, where he arrives shortly before noon on the morning of Sept. 16, and spends the afternoon and evening, leaving at 3 a. m., Friday, Sept. 17, for Madison, Wis., where he will spend the entire forenoon of that day, leaving Madison at midday for Winona, Minn., with a brief stop at Portage, Wis., en route. After spending Friday night at Winona, the president will reach Minneapolis early the morning of Saturday, Sept. 18. The president will spend all of Saturday and Sunday in Minneapolis, leaving Sunday night at 8 p. m. for Des Moines, Ia., the morning of Sept. 20. Five hours will be spent in Des Moines, and then the president moves on to Omaha, where he will spend the late afternoon and evening.

Denver, Colo., will be reached the afternoon of Sept. 21 and the president will go almost direct from his train to the state capitol for a reception to be tendered by state officials, by the chamber of commerce, civic organizations, etc. At 5 p. m. the president will make an address in the Denver auditorium, where Mr. Bryan last year was inaugurated for the presidency. The president and his party will breakfast with Thomas F. Walsh at Walshest, near Denver, the morning of Wednesday, Sept. 22, and then return to the city for the chamber of commerce banquet at noon. Leaving Denver at 5 p. m., Sept. 22, the president and his party will stop for an hour's visit at Colorado Springs and then go to Pueblo, where in the evening they will be guests at the state fair.

The morning of Sept. 23 will find the president at Glenwood Springs for a brief visit and that afternoon he will visit Montrose to have a look at the great Gunnison tunnel of the western Colorado irrigation project. Returning to Grand Junction to resume the journey westward, the president will arrive at Salt Lake City, Utah, Friday afternoon, Sept. 24, to remain there until Sunday afternoon, the 26th, when the party leaves for an hour's stop at Pocatello, Idaho, and Butte, Mont., the latter city being reached on Monday, Sept. 27, at 6:40 a. m. After spending a half a day in Butte, there will be a brief excursion into Helena, Spokane, Wash., will be reached early the next day, and the party will spend the day and night at North Yakima, and the party will arrive at Seattle at 1:15 that evening.

President Taft will spend two days, September 29 and October 1, "doing" the Alaska-Yukon exposition, leaving Seattle late the evening of the second day and arriving at Portland, Ore., October 2 at 7 a. m. Two days will be spent in Portland, the party leaving there at 5 p. m., Sunday, October 3 for a trip down the famous Shasta route through the Sierran mountains and in view of Mount Shasta, to San Francisco. The president will stop the evening of October 4 at Sacramento, reaching Oakes, Cal., early on the morning of October 5. He will spend the day and night at Oakes, and on the morning of Sunday, October 10, will proceed to Los Angeles, stopping for three hours at Fresno Sunday afternoon. The president will spend Monday and Tuesday, October 11 and 12 in Los Angeles, visiting his sister. He will arrive at the Grand Canyon the morning of October 14 and will leave that night for Albuquerque, New Mexico, where he will spend the evening of the 15th, reaching El Paso early the following morning for the meeting with President Diaz, of Mexico. This meeting, it is said, may take place in the center of the international bridge, the chief executive of the two nations standing in their own territory and shaking hands across the border. It is said that a banquet also will be served on the bridge.

The president reaches San Antonio Sunday night, October 17 and will spend the forenoon of the following day in an inspection of Fort San Houston, with the upbuilding of which he had much to do while secretary of war. Arriving at Corpus Christi the evening of October 18, the president goes at once to his brother's reach, where he will spend all of Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Visiting Houston the forenoon of Saturday, October 23, the president proceeds to Dallas that afternoon to spend Saturday evening and all of Sunday. From Dallas, the president proceeds direct to St. Louis to begin his four-days' trip down that historic waterway. He reaches St. Louis at 7:27 a. m. on the morning of Monday, October 25, and will leave at 4 p. m. on the steamer assigned to him by the Deep Waterways association which is to hold its convention in New Orleans upon the president's arrival there. Following the president's boat will be a spectacular flotilla of river craft. One of the trading governors of states who have accepted invitations to make the trip down the river and to attend the convention. Another boat will be assigned to a congressional delegation of more than 100 members.

During his stay in St. Louis he will breakfast at the Commercial club, will make an address at 11 a. m. in the Coliseum, will lunch at the Jefferson hotel as the guest of the Business Men's league and before boarding the steamer at 4 p. m. will make a brief visit to East St. Louis, Ill.

The first long stop of the river will be at Cairo, Ill., at 3:30 a. m., Tuesday, October 26. The second stop will be at Hickman, Ky., at 2:30 p. m., the president making brief addresses at both places. Arriving at Memphis, Tenn., at 5 a. m., Wednesday, October 27, the president will make an address at 9 a. m. and that afternoon at 6 o'clock will speak at Helena, Ark. On Thursday, the 28th, at 2:30 p. m., the president will make a speech at Vicksburg. New Orleans will be reached about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. The river journey also will include short stops at Cape Girardeau, Mo., and Matheis, Miss. The president will remain in New Orleans from Friday afternoon, Sept. 29, to Monday morning, November 1. He will address the Watersways convention, October 30, at 2:30 p. m.

From New Orleans the president goes to Jackson, Miss., spending practically the entire day of November 1 there. He will spend three hours of the following day at Columbus, Miss., and will arrive at Birmingham Ala., that evening at 1:15 o'clock. The president will remain in Birmingham until the afternoon of Wednesday, November 3 when he proceeds to Macon, Ga., arriving there early the morning of the fourth. After spending the forenoon of the fourth at Macon, the president proceeds to Savannah to spend the evening of the fourth and half of the next day. Charleston, S. C., is next on the list for a stop the evening of November 5th. Then Charleston, the president proceeds Saturday morning, November 6, to Augusta, where he will spend Saturday afternoon and Sunday. The president wants to have another game of golf on the links where he spent so much time last fall as president-elect and to renew many of the pleasant acquaintances he made in Augusta. Columbia, S. C., will be visited that afternoon of November 8 and Wilmington, N. C., will claim the president for the entire day of the 9th. The president will spend twelve hours in Richmond, Va., from 5 a. m. to 5 p. m. and will return to Washington at 5:15 o'clock the night of November 10.

The president leaves Washington again, probably on the 11th, for Middletown, Conn., to attend the installation of the new president of Western University. He also has engagements at Norfolk and Hampton, Va., November 19 and 20, so his travels will not be done when he reaches Washington for the winter and to put the finishing touches on his annual message.

ARM FRACTURED

Boy Fell From a Horse's Back

George F. Satter, aged 13 years, fell from a horse's back last night and fractured his right arm. He suffered great pain during the night but did not seek medical or surgical assistance. This morning he went to the Emergency hospital in Taylor street where it was discovered that the arm was fractured. The doctors at the hospital fixed him up and George went back to his home at 18 Lincoln street. A soldier but a wisecracker.

Defeated the Aims of the Republicans in Spain

The Riffs Still Oppose Spanish at Melilla—King Alfonso Cuts off Money Indemnity That Saved the Rich From Military Service

BARCELONA, Aug. 6.—The prospects of another outbreak in Spain seemed today to depend on the course the authorities decide to pursue regarding the prisoners that have been in the Morisco fortress since the recent disorders. These men include several republicans and a number of prominent Spaniards. If they are condemned to death, or given unusually severe sentences, it is said that 25,000 men are prepared to open a guerrilla warfare upon the government in which bands and incursions will play an important part. A prominent republican of Barcelona said today:

"The insurrection at first had the support of all the republican elements in the country and promised to be a complete success, but when the anarchists and the anti-clericals began burning and racking the churches and convents the better class of republicans withdrew. Had it not been for the heroic fidelity of the fanatics I sincerely believe that the republicans would have been flying over Catalonia."

MONEY INDEMNITY ABOLISHED

MADRID, Aug. 6.—On account of the unfavorable criticism aroused by the system of exempting rich men from the military service upon the payment of $400, King Alfonso today issued a decree abolishing a money indemnity in lieu of service.

RIFFS CUT OFF WATER SUPPLY

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me. I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOHN G. MORLEY, 515 Second St., North Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unselfish and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from these distressing troubles to their own health and the sight of these facts or the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

We never publish a testimonial letter without the special permission of the writer, and then only when we are sure it is genuine. Surely such valuable testimony, therefore, should create confidence in the minds of suffering women.

"This action Nelson institutes in his bill of complaint as a slander against his standing in the world."

NEW PRESIDENT

To be Inaugurated in Bolivia

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Important developments may occur in the South American imbroglio, growing out of the strained relations between Bolivia and Argentina, in a few days.

Bolivia is about to inaugurate a new president, Don Roberto Villalon, who is very friendly to Argentina and whose incumbency of the presidential office, it is believed, would have a good effect in the pending critical situation. A suggestion has been made, however, though not officially, that the retiring president who is known to be unfriendly to Argentina and whose objection regarding the decision in the Argentine award awarded had feeling in Argentina, may object to Villalon's inauguration and make an effort to keep him out of the office. Since this happens serious consequences would follow and Bolivia might become involved in internal strife. The whole situation with its many ramifications is quite perplexing to the officials here.

CHAMP CLARK

Makes Statement on Payne Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—In reply to what he termed "the misrepresentations of democrats in the papers," Champ Clark, leader of the minority in the house today gave out a statement regarding the course of the democratic of the house in connection with the consideration of the Payne tariff bill, in which he says in part:

"Some papers, either through carelessness or malice, have gone so far as to say that had the democrats not been absent in large numbers unpaired, we would have defeated the conference report on the tariff bill. There is not a syllable of truth in it, and to so charge is either unadulterated malice or criminal negligence."

"Upon my motion last spring to recommit the Payne bill with instructions, all democrats voted for it except four. On the Payne bill first, voted on immediately after my motion to recommit was defeated, the republicans lost one vote and the democrats lost four, a net loss to the democrats of three—a more nearly unanimous democratic vote than has been cast on a tariff bill in a generation."

"True that on some of the items a few democrats flew the track, but so did more republicans. On Mr. Payne's motion to recommit the conference report all the democrats except one, voted for it, and twenty republicans voted with us, so that the republican majority was victorious by only five majority, although they had a majority of forty-five in the house. On that vote there were absent six democrats and five republicans. Among the absentees four democrats were paired with four republicans leaving two democrats and one republican absent without pairs. If the two democrats absent without pairs had been present and had voted with us, we would still have been defeated by one vote. On that vote to recommit the conference report the democrats voted more solidly than they ever voted on a tariff question since the close of the Civil war, while the republicans were worse split up."

"On the vote on the adoption of the conference report, the house machine won by twelve majority only. There were absent six democrats and four republicans. On the motion to recommit, four democrats were paired with four republicans and two democrats were absent without pairs and two democrats voted with the republicans."

DIAMOND NOTES

Lawrence at Lowell today.

Willie is beginning to show signs of life.

Florenty is right at home in right garden. In the fourth he robbed Brown of a hit by a pretty throw.

Rube Vinson, who three years ago was one of the big league's leading hitters, is with Lowell and played left field yesterday. "Rube" can still swat the ball.

McIntyre, the new pitcher, not only can pitch, but he knows how to bat. He made one single and he hit the ball every time he went to bat.

Harry Huston is playing a classy game at first, but he should be behind the bat, for Boyle is under the doctor's care and should lay off a few days.

You're Rorty isn't so bad, after all.

Leonard, McIntyre, Jangar are three new pitchers who appear to have something.

Everybody but Fitz hit safely, while Howard led with three.

Wason hit a fly to deep right field, which threatened to go over the fence. A contrary wind held it back and Brown caught it.

It must have been the "few remarks" of the fan on the third base bleachers that started the boys hitting. He threatened to "withdraw our patronage."

Billy Merritt looks natural in the uniform, although his front elevation is more rotund than when he was crouching the bat.

The New Bedford players are all strong on low balls. Give most any of them a low one and they'll clout it.

HARRY OSTROFF

A LIVELY MOMENT IN A RECENT DETROIT-NEW YORK GAME, AND EDWARD SUMMERS

DETROIT, Aug. 6.—Until recently it was the general opinion in Detroit that Pitcher Ed Walsh of the Chicago White Sox was the iron man of the American league, but at present that title seems rightfully to belong to Edward Summers of the Detroit Tigers, pictured herewith. Summers in a recent game against Washington, pitched eight innings of runless ball, thus equalling a feat performed by John Montgomery Ward against the Detroit club in August, 1892. Summers' record is not as good this year as that of his teammate, George Mullin, who has ten straight victories to his credit, but his work on the slab has been more sensational, and he is considered the better bet of the two. "Kickapoo," as Summers is known, has had a short but brilliant career, entering professional baseball as a member of the pitching staff of the Indianapolis Reserves in 1903, when he ranked among the strongest independent teams of the country. The following year he pitched, availed for a recent game between Detroit and New York, shows Ty Cobb, leading batsman of the American league, champions, sliding for home and made such a good showing that he was purchased by the Detroit and soon became one of the mainstays of the pitching staff and a big factor in helping the Tigers win their second pennant. The larger illustration from a snapshot made during a recent game between Detroit and New York, shows Ty Cobb, leading batsman of the American league, champions, sliding for home and made such a good showing that he was purchased by the Detroit and soon became one of the mainstays of the pitching staff and a big factor in helping the Tigers win their second pennant.

CLARENCE BROWN

Should Have Lingered Longer in Lowell

CONCORD, Aug. 16.—Clarence Brown of Concord came to grief in Concord yesterday. Brown claims that he has been spending his vacation in Boston, and last night he wanted to come home, or part way at least, in style. He hired a taxicab and started for Lowell. When they arrived in that city Brown decided to go to Manchester, and the chauffeur was agreeable so the party in due time arrived in Manchester. Concord was the next objective point stated by Brown, and once more the chauffeur was agreeable. The auto arrived in Concord early yesterday morning, and then Brown wanted the man to take him to Bristol. About that time the chauffeur wanted to see the color of Brown's money. A wrangle ensued and Brown jumped out and took the alleys to the Boston and Maine station. Here he was arrested for being drunk, the chauffeur having complained to the police. Brown was brought to the police station, where a search of his clothing developed about $20. The chauffeur's bill was $50, and the $20 was given over to him by Brown, while the city marshal gave the chauffeur a letter to the latter's employers stating the circumstances. Brown was locked up on the charge of drunkenness.

MAN ELECTROCUTED

In the York Mills at Saco,
Maine, Today

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 6.—Charles Fournier was electrocuted in the York Mills at Saco this morning. He was employed as a helper in the piping room and was assisting in an electric chamber in the ceiling of the power house when the accident happened. At the time he stood on a water pipe and held a chain fall in his hand. He was heading over, and in standing upright, his head, which was bald, came in contact with a face block, and a fuse plug was knocked out, and Mr. Fournier, it is thought, received a charge of over 500 volts. He fell from where he was standing over a steam pipe to the brick pavement below, a distance of 14 feet. The man was dead when other employees ran to his assistance. He received a head cut on one side of the head in falling to the brick pavement. Physicians were hurriedly secured. Coroner Drabury deemed an inquest unnecessary. Mr. Fournier is survived by a widow and nine children. He was a member of the French societies of this city.

JOHN T. SHEA
OF THE C. T. A. U.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Just as the 23th annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union was about to close last evening, John T. Shea of the Boston archdiocesan union, who a few minutes before had been elected national secretary of the organization, invited the convention to hold the next meeting in Boston. The invitation was received with cheers and was unanimously accepted. The convention will be held the second week in August. Mr. Shea, in extending the invitation said: "It comes to you with the goodwill and approval of that great and distinguished prelate, Archbishop William H. O'Connell."

The election of national secretary developed into a contest between Jos. C. Gibbs of Philadelphia and Mr. Shea. The Pennsylvania delegation voted solidly for Gibbs, while Boston, Providence, Dubuque and many other delegations supported Shea. The first ballot was declared "no vote," and Mr. Shea was elected on the second by a majority of 11.

Mr. Shea, in his speech of acceptance, said: "I thank you for the honor conferred upon me. I make no promises, but I hope when my term expires the members of this union can say, 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'"

We have placed a great many GAS RANGES in Tewksbury this season and last season—more than one would suppose—we install six in the Tewksbury State Hospital the present week. Yet there are a few families (only a few) in Lowell who are still cooking over a coal or wood fire. Strange is it not.

If ever there was a time when you had your doubts as to the values advertised by me, both the time and the doubts ought now to be things of the dead and forgotten past. For six months you have known me in Lowell. For 12 years in Boston, you have seen my business grow from its small beginning to be the biggest tailoring establishment in the country. Reason it a bit. I must have given the people all I premised, or I would not get their business year after year, nor the business of their friends. COUNTRY-FAIR-WORKERS and SLICK SHOW SPIELERS may gull the public once, but when you see a man doing a business of $200,000 annually, growing year after year, BET ON IT, that man is giving the public its money's worth. If this is common sense to you, look over my goods and prices and give me a trial order.

TRIAL PUT OVER

American Missionaries
Will be Defended

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo, Aug. 6.—A postponement until September 21 has been made in the trial here of two American missionaries, the Rev. William Morrison and Rev. W. H. Sheppard on charges of libel. The charges are brought by one of the Congo concession companies, holding a monopoly of rubber gathering in the Kasai region. It claims $20,000 damages from each of the men for "calumnious denunciation."

The circumstances are such that the suit is considered practically as brought by the Belgian government. The United States government has been asked to take action in the trial of the two men that would insure their protection and M. Vandervelde, the Belgian socialist leader, has announced his intention of going to the Congo to defend them.

GERMAN FLEET

KIEL, Aug. 6.—The German fleet, under the command of Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia, returned here today from its cruise to the Spanish coast and is now engaged in taking on coal preparatory to putting to sea again to be reviewed off Kiel by Emperor Nicholas, who is expected here tomorrow on board the Imperial yacht Standart from Cowes. Sixteen battleships and fourteen cruisers will take part in the manoeuvres.

Emperor Nicholas is again to pass through the Kiel canal, and the extraordinary precautions for his safety while so doing, adopted last week, will be repeated. Both sides of the canal will be picketed at short intervals by marines, all traffic on the waterway will be stopped and cavalry will follow the Standart through, marching along the banks at the same speed as the emperor's yacht.

REPUBLICAN CLUB

WILL MAKE MERRY AT WONDERLAND

The annual outing of the French American Republican club of Massachusetts will be held at Wonderland park, Thursday, August 26. Among the speakers at the banquet will be His Excellency Gov. Elton S. Draper, Lieut. Gov. Louis A. Frothingham, Gov. Aram J. Forthier of Rhode Island and Col. Doby, president of the State republican committee. Dr. Clement F. Feltz of Leominster, president of the club, will preside. Between 500 and 600 prominent French Americans from all over the state are expected to be present.

LARGE BEAR

CARRIED AWAY BABY EIGHTEEN MONTHS OLD

DETROIT, Aug. 6.—A Journal special from Cheboygan, Mich., says: Reports reached the city yesterday that a large black bear had carried away a baby 18 months old while the mother was picking huckleberries on the Mackinac plains, about ten miles out of town. The mother had left the child sleeping in charge of another child eight years old.

GERMANY NOTIFIED

OF THE CHANGE IN THE TARIFF LAW

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—The state department at Washington has notified the German home office of the termination of the German-American tariff agreement within six months and nine days, the nine days being added in order to provide an interval for the signature of President Taft. The act is not likely in Germany, being regarded as harmful to German trade with the United States. There does not appear to be any intention of organizing a counter stroke.

PETITION DENIED

METROPOLITAN COMPANY CAN NOT MAINTAIN HOSPITAL

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 6.—State Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss today denied the application of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. for permission to acquire real estate for the purpose of erecting a hospital for its employees and selected policyholders afflicted with tuberculosis. He points out that from the very beginning of corporate insurance in this state insurance companies were limited to the acquisition only of such real estate as has been required by them in the transaction of their ordinary business, that is in the business of making and selling insurance.

3000 COUPLES

HAVE BEEN MARRIED BY TENNESSEE MINISTER

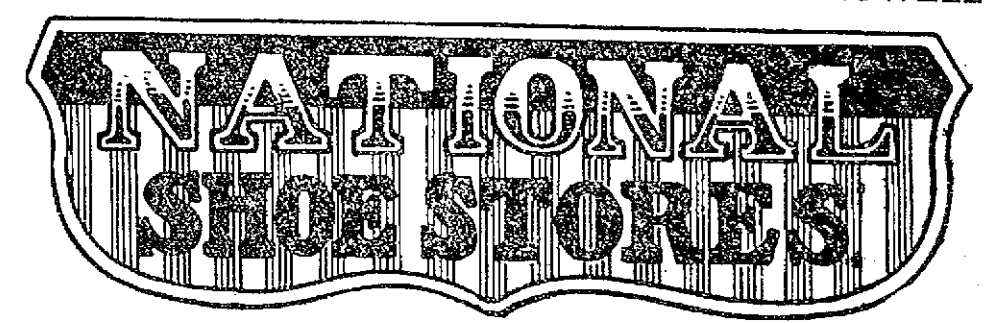

BIRMINGHAM, Tenn., Aug. 6.—Rev. Alfred H. Burroughs, striving for the world's record of 3000 Green ceremonies, here yesterday reached his 3000th couple, dating from an accidental marriage of the kind in Aug. 11, 1889. Eloping young couples come to his Moccasin at the rate of from 20 to 40 a month. He is now looked upon as a wizard among young lovers throughout the south. Most couples married by him come from Virginia and West Virginia, having eloped because the laws of those states forbid marriage of minors except by consent of parents.

JACK JOHNSON

WAS ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF OVERSPEEDING

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 6. Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, was arrested here this morning on the strength of a telegram from the chief of police at Woodstock, Ont. Johnson is alleged to have gone through Woodstock at an excessive rate of speed in his automobile and to have run down another automobilist, smashing his machine. He took his arrest quietly and wanted to pay his fine whatever it might be and settle all damages, but the authorities here had no power in the matter. Johnson was locked up pending his transfer to Woodstock.

A PUBLIC EXECUTION

The public execution by the guillotine in Paris yesterday attracted vast crowds. It was a shocking and indeed a horrifying spectacle, but if ever a public execution were justified, surely it was that of yesterday. The victim was a matricide. He killed his own mother first by the brutal use of a knife and then to finish her quickly he resorted to strangulation, and all from motives of robbery.

TYPHOID FEVER IN THE NAVY

It is very strange that there is so much sickness on the warships that have been around Boston harbor and Provincetown of late. Chelsea naval hospital is crowded with sick men from the fleet, including twenty-three typhoid cases. If this condition exists in time of peace what would be the state of affairs in war?

The warships have their surgeons, and are supplied with good food, and every facility for preserving the health of the marines and the crew.

It is alleged that the typhoid fever has resulted from the use of bad potatoes. Why use bad potatoes or bad food of any kind? Does not Uncle Sam provide money enough to feed the men of the navy as they should be fed? Has not the federal government enacted strict laws relative to pure food? Is the United States navy exempt from the operation of those laws or have the authorities been lax in their enforcement or permissive in the treatment of the men of the fleet?

There is something wrong and somebody is to blame for the illness and possible deaths of the men now confined at the Chelsea hospital. The whole matter should be carefully investigated in order that precautions may be taken against any such outbreak in the future.

THE TARIFF BILL PASSED

Now that the tariff bill has been enacted, it is expected that the uncertainty that has affected business for some time will disappear and a great industrial boom set in all over the country. The textile industries have fared very well in the shuffle; the publishers have secured a substantial reduction in the tariff on paper stock and will be relieved of extortionate charges if the paper trust does not decide to pocket the entire advantage.

President Taft has secured free hides for the shoe industries of New England and now it remains to be seen whether the price of shoes will be reduced or whether the manufacturers will keep the increased profits to themselves. The people expect reductions in the price of footwear, they have been promised reductions by leading manufacturers if the tariff were removed from hides. Now that hides are free the manufacturers are expected to keep faith with the people. If they don't, there will be an uprising against the trusts greater than anything that has yet been experienced.

THE HOMESTEAD COMMISSION

We have often in this column advocated greater reliance upon the land and directed attention to the ease with which it will yield wealth by proper cultivation. Great stress was laid upon this principle during the panic year, but it is no less important in years of prosperity as a protection against panic or business depression.

Waste land is always to be had at a moderate price, always ready to yield abundant crops with proper cultivation, and yet thousands and thousands who were brought up in agricultural districts seek the congested factory districts and there take what comes, whether it be good or ill, without making any attempt to get back to the land or the farm.

We are glad to note that a great many men employed in workshop or factory during the day have taken to the cultivation of gardens during their leisure hours, thereby enjoying not only healthful but profitable exercise.

We are glad also to note that this idea of relying more upon the land as a source of wealth is taken up by the state, and that Governor Draper has appointed a Homestead commission, the duty of which will be to induce people to leave the congested districts of cities to settle upon the land or to take up the cultivation of land in conjunction with their other occupations.

Anybody who wishes to see an ideal garden, or the possibilities of garden cultivation, should visit the garden connected with the Polish church on High street where every foot of ground is made abundantly fruitful, and where corn and other vegetables are bordered with beautiful shrubs and flowers in a manner that delights the eye of every passerby.

Along the banks of the Merrimack below Haverhill, a great many Italians have built houses on the hill sides and have turned barren into fertile land. By gradual process these people will in time establish comfortable homes and will branch out into the farming business. At present they work in paper mills, shoe shops or elsewhere during the day, and before and after regular working hours, they manage to till their little farms, raising a supply of potatoes and other vegetables that will not only serve them during the summer months but for a good part of the winter. Here again we have an illustration of the possibilities of remuneration from the cultivation of the land. When such enterprise is fostered by the Homestead commission, we have no doubt that much will be accomplished in the line of placing greater reliance upon the land and its proper cultivation as a source of wealth, and upon the cultivation of the land as a means of subsistence when business is dull in the factory, it will be very convenient for the operative to have a garden or farm in which he can spend his time to advantage.

Moreover the land thus reclaimed and made productive is a new and permanent source of wealth. A protection against want and an inducement to the needy to turn to the soil for subsistence instead of depending entirely upon the factory that is subject to so many disturbances and depressions that are liable to affect business and cause temporary suspensions during which the employees, unless they have something to fall back upon, will be reduced to want.

SEEN AND HEARD

Strange, wasn't it that Jerome didn't ask Harry Thaw how many cigarettes he smokes, per day or week?

"True love never runs smooth." "You can put me down as believing in that," said Harry Thaw and still they are trying to make out that Harry doesn't know what he is talking about.

Pardon the repeat, but lest we forget: "Often to the bar seldom to the bank."

Don't want to hurry you, Bill, but now is a pretty good time to think about what you're going to wear next winter.

Going home late at night isn't half as bad as getting up early in the morning.

Most fat people are good natured but outside of that they are all right.

I had heard much about the diving horses "King" and "Queen," at Lakeview and decided to see them perform. I watched them from the pavilion and saw them go through the jumping or diving point and then "kerplunk." It's a wonderful act to say the least but I was more interested in the horses than in their act. I found that they come of pure Arabian blood, that there are only two days difference in their ages and both are in their sixteenth year. They are the direct descendants of the Arabian stallion presented to Gen. Grant by the shah of Persia in 1864. Their dispositions are such as to carry them almost to the very threshold of the human family. They notice and resent the least little slight and appreciate every little kindness. If you would hear all about King and Queen just drop in as I did on Henry Jackson, the colored man who takes care of them. Henry weighs not less than 325 pounds and he is just as happy as he is large. He is with King and Queen night and day and when they want anything at night they call Henry and if Henry doesn't respond there's something doing. Henry Jackson used to be Julius F. Pratt's coachman, as Henry puts it, "trustworthy coachman." Mr. Pratt was born in Worcester and had a summer home at Crescent beach. "I cares for them as I would for children," said Henry, speaking of King and Queen, "and they are the finest horses that ever lived. No two human beings ever so attached to these horses. They have never been separated for a single day in their lives."

Were lovers always dearest, So tender of surprise? How is it that you cannot read How I dream within my eyes? Alas! I'm but a woman. A flower I may not be, Yet all my youth was yours, dear love, Did you but ask it me.

LOVES METAPHORS.

Oh, were I but a rosebud, My cup o'erbrimmed with dew, I'd offer all my sweetness then, To be loved, unto you.

I'd give my velvet cheek, dear, To kiss in my shut-lid eyes, And in the summer of your kiss Would blossom to a rose.

Oh, were I but a pansy, Of soft, ethereal hue, I'd whisper all my tender thoughts, To be loved, unto you.

I'd press my velvet cheek, dear, Against your very crown, And tell you all the vague sweet hopes That only love makes known.

Oh, were I but a lily, That in your garden grew, I'd give my rarest fragrance, To be loved, unto you.

I'd give my spangled petals, And from my delicate white Would waft your heart, its wistful dreams Of passion's pure delight.

Were lovers always dearest, So tender of surprise? How is it that you cannot read How I dream within my eyes? Alas! I'm but a woman. A flower I may not be, Yet all my youth was yours, dear love, Did you but ask it me.

PEOPLE OF NOTE.

The king and queen of Spain will visit England in the autumn. It is quite likely that they may be at Sandringham for the celebration of King Edward's birthday, which is also to be attended by the German emperor.

Disappointed with the appropriation voted by congress for playgrounds in Washington city, the women began a movement for a public demonstration. A day was set aside and buttons bearing the words "I am for playgrounds. W. H. Taft" were sold at prices ranging from 10 cents to $10. Apparently everybody helped in the work and at night it was found that the proceeds of the day amounted to about $12,000.

On a special leave of indefinite absence, Rev. Joseph K. Gustaf, for 10 years the head of the missionary work among Syrians in the United States, is to visit his old home again, and will sail on August 10 for the Holy Land. He has had his headquarters at the Syrian-Maronite mission in Tyler street, Boston, where he will teach a farewell sermon next Sunday. Father Gustaf's health has suffered during his labors here, which have taken him into 30 states. He expects to be gone about a year, going to Rome, where he received his training at the Maronite college, and to Palestine to visit his father at Mount Lebanon.

Right Rev. Charles Chapman Grafton, D. D., bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of New York, will be in the east for a part of the summer, and on the annual cruise of the New York Yacht club he will be the guest of Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry. Bishop Grafton has many friends in Newport, in Portland, Bar Harbor, and other points covered in the cruise.

In order that her husband, who is minister of the South Brooklyn Unitarian church, Brooklyn, N. Y., might have a month's vacation without causing expenses to the society in employing another minister, Mrs. H. S. Baker has been preaching sermons in his absence.

Molden Bledsoe, who is said to have been the last survivor of the Fenian expedition, was found drowned in a canal in Denver last week. He was over 91 years old, and just after he passed his 90th birthday he became an ashen driver, explaining to his friends of whom he had many in Denver that he couldn't live without work. He was a member of James A. Garfield post of the G. A. R., of the fair of the Republic and active in the fair of the Sons of the American Revolution in Colorado.

What shocks the St. Louis Globe-Democrat most of all in Senator Stone's Baltimore adventure is the disclosure that he consumes cigarettes. "Oh, Missouri," it exclaims, "imperial and sovereign in the pride of a lusty manhood, how art thou fallen now! Where is the cornucopia of riches? Where is the flame of which has shone as a beacon light in your darkest hours? For one whiff of the black Cubans of Best, dark as midnight, smooth with more than the silkiness of the best leaf Samatra, and buried in the hearts of which were those divine odors which, like sweet spices, had only to be touched with voice fire to make incense for the highest gods."

Cycle Fitch is the American playwright most commonly associated with a large income. His earnings have frequently been contrasted with Shakespeare's, so greatly have his royalties in a single year exceeded Shakespeare's returns in a lifetime. Yet when Mr. Fitch sailed for Europe recently he declared that he was a poor man. His income, according to information given by himself, has been mainly expended in buying and furnishing houses and in assisting relatives. He thought
